PACT NEAR ON POLICING ATOM TESTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today tentative agreement by East-West scientists on ways to police a nuclear test ban is the sort of thing that could lay the groundwork for a summit conference.

His news conference statement was in response to a question.

Eisenhower said the agreement, which he said may be signed Thursday, is most encouraging, and raises hopes for more important steps toward easing cold war tensions.

The United States welcomes any constructive step in this direction, he added.

The Soviet-Western agreement on means of setting up a global monitoring network came in seven weeks of secret talks now drawing to an end in Geneva.

There was no effort by the 16 scientists from four Western and four Communist nations to reach any political decisions on whether there should be an agreement to halt nuclear testing.

However, American officials said the Kremlin can be expected to point to the Geneva agreement as committing the United States to end tests.

This interpretation has been rejected in advance by President Eisenhower.

The American position, as set forth in the past by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, is that any agreement by East-West scientists might lead to suspension of testing, but that the United States refused to be bound in advance.

Pending a final report by scientists of both sides, State Department officials cautiously refused to appraise the significance of the Geneva agreement on a possible control system. Details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Rickover Will Be Given Promotion To Vice Admiral

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's top atomic expert, is going to be promoted to vice admiral.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates said Rickover, 58, would get his three stars as soon as certain procedures can be worked out.

It marks the second time that a Navy secretary has taken steps to win a promotion for Rickover, who has incurred the disfavor of some top Navy officers because of his disregard of protocol in pushing the atomic submarine program.

Five years ago, after he had twice been passed over by Navy selection boards, then Secretary Robert Anderson stepped in to gain Rickover a promotion from captain to rear admiral.

A number of members of Congress recently voiced concern that Rickover might not be promoted to vice admiral. Similar expressions were heard from Congress in 1953 when his promotion then was in doubt.

Assistance Board Divided On Plans To Hike Benefits

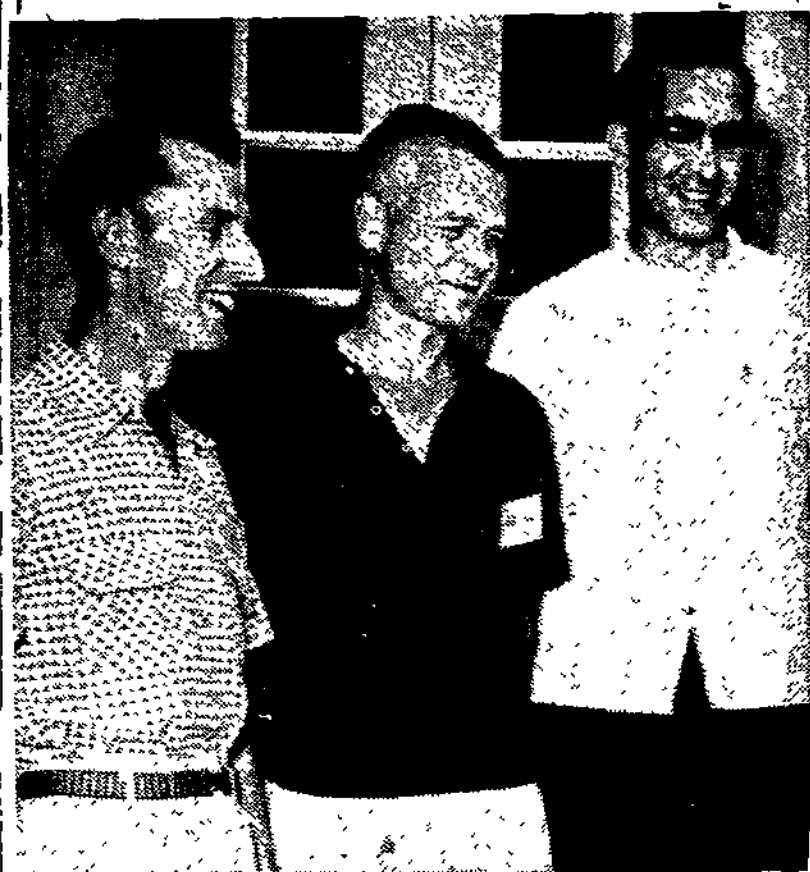

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Board of Public Assistance was divided today on proposals to boost minimum relief standards up to 50 per cent and to investigate payments for illegitimate children.

No action was taken on the two requests Tuesday because of a lack of a quorum. Only four members of the nine-member agency showed up.

The Rev. Jesse F. Reber, Harrisburg, and Thomas Harvey, Philadelphia, were reportedly in favor of a plan by Harry Shapiro, public welfare secretary, to increase relief standards for a four-person family from $153 a month to $215.

But two Republican members of the board, Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith and Warner Deputy, de-

Man to Moon and Back in Five Years Scientists Say

PALO ALTO, Cal. (AP)—Within five years the United States should send a man in a sealed cabin on an 80-hour journey around the moon and back to earth, two Martin Company space planners report.

But by then Soviet Russia may have landed men on the moon, said Dandridge M. Cole and Donald E. Muir in a paper before the American Astronautical Society's western regional meeting at Stanford University.

Cole and Muir, engineers in the Martin Company advance planning department at Denver, said solutions to the major problems involved in venturing a manned flight around the moon already are understood in principle.

The remaining problems are primarily those of money, time and engineering development, Cole contended.

Assigned a sufficient priority, a program including five test flights and three manned flights could be carried out for less cost than that of some current large rocket projects, Cole said.

He said the required vehicles could be assembled from components already well along in development.

Cole and Muir said they projected an 80-hour flight around the moon and back as a good compromise between safety for the moon ship's cost.

They estimated 35.35 hours to reach the moon, 9.3 hours to fly around it and 35.35 for the flight back to earth.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—The hardware to shoot a man to the moon in a space ship may be in sight.

But a still unanswered question is: Could a human pilot survive the rifling bombardment of cosmic rays outside the earth's atmosphere?

"We really have no idea of how great the hazard may be," Col. David G. Simons, Air Force balloon explorer, told a man-on-the-moon conference.

Congress Increases Tempo On Legislation Action in Spurt To Quit This Week

By PAUL DUKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress increased its tempo today with the Senate taking up a broad bill to curb the powers of the Supreme Court and the House continuing debate on minerals legislation.

There were signs legislative leaders were redoubling their efforts to adjourn later this week.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced plans for an early test vote on the Jenner-Butler bill, which is aimed at offsetting the impact of recent Supreme Court decisions involving communism.

Little Rock School Board Will Resist

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock school board, challenged by Gov. Orval Faubus to say how it would resist a resumption of integration here next month, revealed a three-point plan Tuesday night.

The board said it would:

1. Ask the U.S. Supreme Court to intervene.
2. Request the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to stay its order, which overturned a lower court's approval of a 2½-year integration delay.
3. Attempt to set up a meeting with Faubus to discuss several methods he has proposed to avoid integration despite court orders.

The moves were revealed after a closed session at which the board considered the Circuit Court's reversal Monday of an integration delay granted June 21 by Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark. The school board had requested the delay.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom said action on all three points was planned today.

Before Tuesday night's board meeting, Faubus said his future actions depended on what the school board did. He said a special session of the Legislature, considered imminent as a result of the overturning of the integration delay, would not be called if the board took some actions he outlined.

He said the board could use a 1956 state pupil assignment law to keep Negroes out of white schools, or it could persuade Negro students to stay out voluntarily. The pupil assignment law has never been tried.

If those two things failed, Faubus said, the board could resign "and allow the people to select a new board which would have the courage to act in conformity to their wishes."

Parents of five of the eight Negro students who completed the year at Central High School last June declined to say whether their children would return next month.

United States Is Plugging Hard for Norway Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—The United States sought today to rally the West's allies in the U.N. Assembly against an Asian-African move to demand speedy withdrawal of U.S. and British forces from Lebanon and Jordan.

The Americans are plugging hard for a Norwegian resolution asking U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to make arrangements to insure the independence of Lebanon and Jordan so the American and British troops can pull out.

The resolution makes no specific demand for the withdrawal but cites declarations from the two Western allies that they will remove their troops when the U.N. decides they are no longer necessary. The British-American idea is that Hammarskjöld would arrange for some sort of U.N. force to replace the withdrawing troops.

Secretary of State Dulles conferred for more than an hour Tuesday night with representatives of the 20 Latin American nations. Some of them were reported fearful that the Norwegian resolution could be used to justify intervention to keep an unpopular Latin-American government in power.

Baker Faces Questioning On Ransom

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Blonde Ruth Brougher, a convicted slayer who said she is Teamster boss Robert (Barney) Baker's former sweetheart, today joined his ex-wife in linking Baker's name with that of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Mrs. Brougher, brought from a Florida penal institution to testify in the Senate racket hearings, swore she knew Baker to be "on the lam" from New York City to escape questioning in a waterfront killing there, and added: "I don't think he could go back until after Gov. Harriman was elected." Baker's former wife, Millie Baker, had testified similarly Tuesday. She said Baker had fled after the killing of Anthony Hinz, a pier boss. The senators have heard testimony earlier of associations between Baker and Eddie (Cockeyed) Dunn, a mob leader who was convicted in the Hinz case and executed.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert (Barney) Baker, a 300-pound Teamster Union boss, faced questioning today on the whereabouts of the missing $300,000 in Green-lease kidnap ransom.

Mrs. Mollie Baker, divorced wife of the Teamster official, testified Tuesday that Baker told her Joseph Costello, a St. Louis taxi company operator, got the money. She said, "I may be killed for telling."

Detective Capt. John Doherty of St. Louis, another witness before the Senate Rackets Committee, also mentioned Costello among four men he said were involved with the money, missing since 1953.

Costello, a convicted gun runner, was called to the stand. But he refused to say anything about (Turn to Page Twelve)

Shotgun Blast Fired at Bandit Fells Bystanders

By RAY STEPHENS

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Robbed of $255, a ring and a pistol, Joseph Centimano grabbed a shotgun and charged out of his East Side liquor store in pursuit of the bandit.

Spotting a fleeing man 50 feet away, Centimano hastily fired his 12-gauge pump gun three times. Down went his target—and five bystanders.

No one was wounded seriously, least of all the bandit, who jumped to his feet and scampers into an alley.

Centimano, 48, ran back inside his store, got another shotgun and took up the chase. He hailed a passing patrol car and got the help of policeman Gary Francis and Herbert Gardner.

A few minutes later, the officers grabbed a young Negro behind a hotel a block from the store. They found him stripping off a blood-stained shirt.

"That's the man," shouted Centimano, a step behind the policemen. Then Centimano clouted the man with his shotgun, breaking the stock.

Police took 23-year-old Joseph Edward Brinkley Jr., of Denver, to a hospital, where numerous shotgun pellets were removed from his skin and a cut on his head was treated. He was booked for investigation.

DECLARES EVERY CITIZEN HAS AN OBLIGATION TO COMPLY WITH DECISIONS

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today all Americans have a solemn obligation to comply with federal court orders in the school integration controversy.

In a prepared statement at a news conference the President also said every state has a responsibility to support and obey such orders.

"Every American must understand," Eisenhower said, "that if an individual community or state is going successfully and continuously to defy the courts, then there is anarchy."

Without referring specifically to the explosive situation in Little Rock, Ark., or to other potential trouble areas, Eisenhower left no doubt his appeal was directed to those regions.

His comment came against the background of a federal appellate court's decision earlier this week that integration must be resumed in Little Rock. That decision set aside a federal court ruling in favor of a 2½-year delay.

In response to questions, Eisenhower refused to say whether he favors school integration.

He told newsmen that any expression on that issue would be wrong and would make his job more difficult with respect to his sworn duty to enforce the law.

After declining to express a view on the merits of the integration controversy, Eisenhower said in his statement:

"This case, however, or any person's agreement or disagreement with its outcome, must not be conducted with the final orders of the court."

Eisenhower then spoke of the responsibility and obligation of the individual states to suppress unlawful forces.

Speaking further regarding a state's obligation, Eisenhower said:

"It cannot by action or deliberate failure to act permit violence to frustrate the preservation of individual rights as determined by a court decree."

Without specifically saying so, Eisenhower indicated that under new but similar circumstances he would take the same course he followed in sending troops to Little Rock last September.

"There can be no equivocation," Eisenhower said, "as to the responsibility of the federal government in such an event. My feelings are exactly as they were a year ago."

Eisenhower recalled he had said at that time:

"The very basis of our individual freedoms rests upon the certainty that the President and the executive branch of government will support and insure the carrying out of the decisions of the federal courts."

Eisenhower said he continues to insist that the common sense of the individual and a feeling (Turn to Page Twelve)

Soviet Spy Escapes From Stockholm Prison

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A Turkish-

Armenian engineer serving 10 years for spying for the Soviet Union escaped Tuesday from Stockholm's Langholmen Prison.

Police believed the 33-year-old man, Bedros Zartaryan, hid in one of several hampers of dirty laundry which were taken out of the prison.

Zartaryan was convicted in March 1957 for furnishing the Soviets information on Swedish atom-proof underground military establishments.

Dam Fund Held Pending Outcome of Indian Suits

WASHINGTON (AP)—No money will be obligated for the proposed Kinzua Dam near Warren, Pennsylvania, until pending litigation over the dam's construction is settled.

This agreement was reached by Senate and House representatives who worked out a compromise public works appropriation bill which included one million dollars for the dam on the Allegheny River.

Makes Plea For Support Of Measures

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he could not consider himself in the same political camp with any Congress member at odds with him over three major pieces of legislation.

The measures: Reciprocal trade, foreign aid and defense legislation.

Eisenhower told a news conference he regards them as absolutely vital.

Therefore, he said, he could not feel close political kinship with anyone completely opposed to his views on these questions.

The President had been asked whether he would decline to campaign this fall for any Republican Congress members who balked at these bills.

Eisenhower didn't go that far. He said he has made the point before that no one vote or expression would make it impossible for him to ever support any political figure.

Asked whether he has any plans to take part in the campaign, Eisenhower replied he had no detailed plans and no specific projects.

But, he added, it would be strange if he didn't have something to say during the course of (Turn to Page Twelve)

Greensburg Man Drowns in Plunge Into Allegheny

PITTSBURGH (AP)—James Jamison, 42-year-old member of a prominent Greensburg family, drowned late Tuesday night as he plunged into the Allegheny River from the bow of a cabin cruiser.

Homicide detectives are investigating the tragedy.

Jamison, his wife and two other Greensburg couples were aboard the cabin cruiser which was proceeding toward a dock of the Highland Flying and Boating Club at Aspinwall. The 32-foot cruiser was operated by Atty. Howard Steele who owned the craft. Also aboard were Mrs. Steele and Atty. and Mrs. Edward Doran.

Doran told police he was standing with Jamison seconds before Jamison plunged into the river. He said he turned his head for a moment, heard a thud and turned just in time to see Jamison hit the water. A life preserver was thrown into the water but Jamison, who reportedly was a good swimmer, couldn't reach it. Detectives theorized he may have hit his head on the boat as he fell.

The House approved the bill earlier this year, specifying that none of the money provided for the reservoir in the measure should be obligated until a decision in the case is reached by the circuit court of appeals and the Supreme Court.

The Senate altered the bill to provide that none of the funds should be obligated for construction. Later, the Senate group, in conference, agreed to go along with the original House restriction.

1959 Production Is Started by the Auto Industry

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry has started production on its new 1959 model cars in an atmosphere of uncertainty.

With contracts still to be settled with the United Auto Workers, the industry's bid

Three faced the possibility of a strike in the fall.

The union has said nothing specific. But labor trouble is held to be likely if there is no settlement with Ford, Chrysler or General Motors. Negotiations are continuing.

Chrysler called back several thousand men after months of layoff. They were the first of 42,000 workers coming back to turn out Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial cars. Chrysler's full work force is about 90,000.

By mid-November the worker recall is expected to number in the scores of thousands in the industry. The future will tell how the 1959 model year is to compare with the recession cut 1958 year.

Ultimate peak employment will depend on the car market and the extent of production.

Recently General Motors had employed fewer than 200,000 men. On the basis of present forecasts the figure will be 325,000 by mid-November. That would be about 60,000 less than the peak in the first quarter of last year.

Ford, which employed 143,000 in the first quarter last year, has indicated it should be up to 102,500, at the height of '59 model production.

Union-company negotiations resumed without the presence in Detroit of UAW President Walter Reuther. Reuther is in Forest Park, Pa., for the meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Two labor disputes were settled yesterday. An unauthorized walkout of 26 UAW lift truck drivers at Chrysler's stamping plant at Twinsburg, Ohio, ended, but terms of the agreement were not announced.

The strike, caused by personal grievances, has idled 1,400 production workers for a week.

A dispute over an outside contract at the Wixom, Mich., Lincoln-Thunderbird plant, where 2,500 workers are employed, was settled when UAW members voted to return to work under terms of a settlement worked out by company and union negotiators.

Taste of Autumn

The weather maps below give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast from mid-August to mid-September. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Rainfall for the period is expected to exceed normal in the Ohio Valley, North and Middle Atlantic states, in Florida and in a finger-like section of the Southwest. Elsewhere, moderate to light rainfall is expected.

Northeasters will experience temperatures below seasonal normals from mid-August to mid-September. South Atlantic states and the western half of the nation will have above normal temperatures. Elsewhere, near normal temperatures are predicted.

Boyle's Comment

By BAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Peace has many soldiers, and each man has to fight for it in his own way.

"It's not enough to place a wreath on a soldier's grave once a year," said Capt. Charles Dent. "We have to do more."

The idea that he himself should do more came to Dent, a 41-year-old United Air Lines pilot, nearly two years ago on a night flight from Denver to New York. The Hungarian revolution was then at its peak.

He and his fellow crewmen, all of whom had had some experience in World War II, fell to discussing the world's plight.

"It was a clear night," recalled Dent, "and the American cities we flew over seemed terribly vulnerable to an airman."

"Whose fault was it the world was in such turmoil so long after the war? Who was to blame?"

"At first we blamed it on our leaders, then decided that we couldn't reasonably blame it on leadership. For, after all, leadership hadn't had the active support of the people—people like us, sitting in the cockpit of the plane and ready to blame everybody but ourselves."

"We had done nothing personally to save the peace."

Dent didn't let the thought die there. He wanted to do something for world peace. But what? He talked to other airline personnel, visited nine foreign countries on his vacation and talked over the problem with their veterans.

After conversations with 2,500 individuals he reached these conclusions:

"We seem to be pursuing peace along two roads.

"One the low road, is by building up our strength by increasing our armaments."

How could they do more on the high road to peace?

Dent decided that one way was to make all peoples aware of the United Nations and its first purpose—

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCEUR

NEW YORK (AP)—"Stagecoach," the 1939 John Ford movie that has become a kind of classic of its type, is appearing on television stations here and there throughout the country.

The other night I watched and enjoyed it again and I'd recommend it to viewers of two types: those who like Westerns, and those who dislike Westerns.

"Stagecoach" doesn't hold quite the charm for me in 1958 that it did in 1939. But probably that's because I've seen too many Westerns since then, many of them trying to imitate—consciously or unconsciously—what Ford did. Because it was well written, well played, and produced with meticulous care for detail, "Stagecoach" still is grand entertainment.

Not a week passes on television that we don't see the debt of contemporary Western producers to Ford. Debts are inevitable and justifiable in the lively arts when the new effort tries to improve the claim staked out by the old. Unfortunately, TV Westerns seldom are improvements.

This week on "Maverick" we saw another Western about a stagecoach dashing through Apache country. Its passengers definitely were not as interesting or well defined as those who rode Ford's stagecoach.

When the coach was overturned, they holed up in an abandoned adobe hut to fight it out with the Apaches. But the Apaches weren't really Apaches; they were Mexicans disguised as Apaches who wanted several hundred thousand bucks that one of the women in the coach was carrying.

"Stagecoach" resolves its Apache dilemma in the old, forthright stand-up Western manner: At the harrowing moment of the chase the 7th Cavalry dashes in and the stage is saved. Personally, I find that more credible than the way "Maverick" solved its fake Apache dilemma: Our hero filled an empty canteen with cartridge powder and slugs, stuck a fuse in it, crawled out, tossed his bomb—and killed every last phony Apache.

There's no reason to pick on "Maverick" more than nearly every other current TV Western; it merely happens to be this week's glaring comparison with "Stagecoach."

Area Bankers Are Going to College At Bucknell Univ.

More than 200 Pennsylvania bankers are going to college this week, attending the seventh annual summer school of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association on the Bucknell University campus at Lewisburg.

The school, sponsored by the PBA, runs from August 17th through August 22nd. Curriculum is divided into a section on bank operations and a section on lending. There are 20 hours of morning classes, six hours of special afternoon lectures, and evening informal discussion sessions with instructors.

A special directors seminar is also scheduled in conjunction with the school, with more than 120 directors attending this two-day session, August 20-21.

The opening banquet of the school, on Sunday, included a feature address by Pennsylvania Secretary of Banking, Robert L. Myers, Jr., of Harrisburg.

pose—"to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

For a year and a half the pilot has spent all his spare time in this work. One of his first goals is to make a modified U.N. emblem—it has the words "We Believe" beneath a wreathed world—familiar around the globe. He'd like to see this symbol of faith in world unity and peace painted on every commercial airplane in every land—on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

His crusade isn't merely a matter of words with Capt. Dent. Some time ago his company gave him a $5,500 bonus for successfully belly-landing a crippled plane without injury to his passengers. He immediately donated the bonus to the U.S. Committee for the United Nations.

"If the United Nations is going to work," he said, "it has to be known and supported by individuals. We will be doing something worthwhile for peace if we make the U.N. symbol as familiar around the world as the Coca-Cola sign."

DAM APPROPRIATION
A million dollar appropriation for the Kinzua Dam, earmarked for construction, survived the important Senate-House conference review in Washington Monday and, along with a $2,700,000 flood control program for Bradford, was included in the $1,118,000,000 water projects program. The Kinzua Dam project had been approved in the House and Senate, contingent on developments of a protest by the Seneca Indians nation. The Senecas are continuing their efforts to block the dam, fighting through the courts and offering a substitute canal program which has been rejected by U. S. Army Engineers. Thus far, all objections of the Senecas and various proposals have been countered by the U. S. Army Engineers who have been surveying and studying the project for more than a score of years.

Entries Pouring In for Jaycees' Tennis Tourney

Entries continue to pour in to Jaycee Tennis Tournament chairman Don Norris for the second annual event on Monday. Several more entries are needed, though, to complete the exciting schedule of matches planned for the big event.

Tournament, as planned, will run from August 26 to 30th, finals to be on the latter day.

Eight finalists will battle for trophies being given by the local Jaycee Chapter. Scorekeepers for various divisions will all be experienced tennis players so that there will be no doubt as to calls and no doubt as to the score at a given time. Jaycees are now completing arrangements so that scorekeepers can be afforded a high perch to watch each match in order to assure good vision and accurate scores.

Chairman Norris emphasized today that only entry fee for the tournament is a can of tennis balls, and that while experience may be a factor in the eventual outcome, players who have not been at the game for too long a time should enter to gain necessary tournament experience and competition.

Anyone desiring further information may call Don Norris at 1068-J.

Oil City Girl Wins Majorette Crown

Carolyn Velier, of Oil City, won the national championship of the ladies' strolling drum majorette class in VFW competition, in New York City, according to the Oil City Derrick.

Miss Velier, leader of the Oil City and Franklin Indian Bonnettes, received a 98 rating out of a possible 100 per cent, and was given five points above scores of baton twirling majorettes.

Her drill team marched down Eighth Avenue, taking part in the big national convention parade of the VFW, competing with other teams from all over the United States.

Today, after a sightseeing tour, the unit will attend the national drum corps competition, and should they be champions, they will be put on an exhibition.

The group, consisting of 55 girls, seven boys, 11 chaperones and a nurse, will return home on Thursday morning.

Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Velier, and her Bonnettes have appeared here in parades on numerous occasions, receiving enthusiastic applause from onlookers.

$7,000 Damages, Two Hurt in 3-car Mishap

Nearly $7,000 in damages were sustained about 8:45 p. m. Tuesday at Lily Pond when three cars tangled and took out expensive New York Central warning signals. Two Jamestown residents were treated at the hospital.

According to Warren State Troopers, John Fisher, 22, of 209 Market street, was heading west when he slowed to make the zig-zag turn by White Way Drive-in theater.

Coming along behind him and unable to stop was Gary Dickerson, 23, of 231 Crescent street, Jamestown. The Dickerson machine glanced off the rear of the Fisher car and into the path of an eastbound vehicle operated by Robert Hansen, 50, of 300 East street.

The Dickerson car then spun into the railroad equipment, downing signal mast, battery box and relay box. Damage to railroad equipment was estimated at about $5,000, with an-

World-Famous Jamboree Party Coming August 28

An actual part of the world-famous Jamboree Party from W.V.V.A. in Wheeling, West Virginia, will appear in Beaty Auditorium August 28, presenting the famous Doc Williams and his Border Riders in a benefit show sponsored by Farrah Grotto.

The show is the good, clean fun that has thrilled thousands of families countless times in the past, presenting good taste in western music for both young and old. Features include country style and comedy singing.

Jamboree, itself, recently celebrated its 25th year of continuous Saturday night broadcasting and the Williams unit was one of the prominent participants.

Doc Williams troop has been a part of the Jamboree for many ears and is noted for its versatility and its ability to keep abreast of the times with modern folk and Western music as well as old time favorites.

Two shows are scheduled, one at 2:30 p. m. and an evening show at 8:00. Admission is 50c for children, $1 for adults. Tickets may be obtained from Grotto members or at the door.

Preview of What To Expect In Your New '59 Automobile

By LARRY

Putting the ear to the ground in Detroit these days one can come up with all kinds of automotive guff. How much of it is authentic remains to be seen in the next month or so, but, as usual, styling trends seem much the same.

Take fins for instance. There are going to be more fins than ever for 1959 models and some of them may look more like "wings."

Most models won't be smaller—if anything some may be slightly longer and wider and lower.

There will be much more glass—front, sides and rear. Windshields will be extending far into the roof of the car, rear windows will be more panoramic, too.

Taillights will look more like taillights are supposed to look. Most will be round (again) and some pear-shaped. Dual headlamps will be retained but arrangements will differ. Some will be canted.

There will be less chrome, especially on rear panels, of some models and front grilles other $1,000 to the Dickerson car.

Mr. Dickerson was taken to Warren General Hospital by ambulance and treated for a cut over his right eye. His wife, Carol, was treated for a cut right elbow and right ankle injury.

Damages were estimated at $500 to the Fisher vehicle, $200 to Hansen's.

on practically all cars will be different.

Rear ends of practically all cars, even Rambler, will be restyled.

There will be new array of colors but look for less combinations, more solid colors.

From all indications Buick will be the first of 1959 cars to be introduced this fall. Completely restyled, '59 Buicks, in three series instead of the usual five, will be unveiled in dealer showrooms September 19.

New Buicks were previewed for some 250 newsmen in Flint during the past week but full details of the cars are "off the record" until official announcement date, September 15.

Among other things you hear from Detroit for 1959:

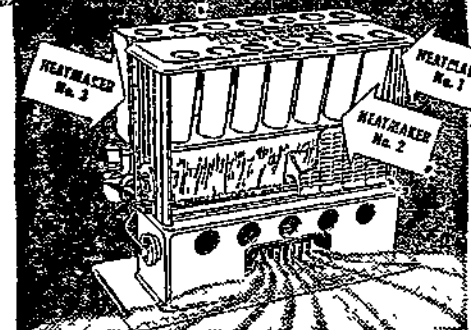

Chevrolet will have an all-new body, new front end with a "winged" rear.

Ford, too, will have a new body, more massive grille, round taillights. Mechanical innovations will feature a new automatic transmission.

Plymouth will have significant changes, especially fins.

Dodge will get a new rear end design but fin treatment

Mamie Trying To Fill White House Chinaware Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower is looking for some chinaware.

It's not that there's a shortage at the White House. The man who lived there before put in a 1,000-piece set.

But Mrs. Eisenhower is trying to fill in a White House collection of pieces of china having personal association with all of the presidents.

Going over and regrouping the collection in the White House china room, Mrs. Eisenhower and her staff discovered five missing pieces: Andrew Johnson, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

White House records show those five presidents made no purchases of china during their occupancy of the White House, but used what their predecessors left behind.

So Mrs. Eisenhower is searching for pieces they owned privately to fill in the collection.

Chautauqua Take Shows Increase Over Former Year

Chautauqua Foundation, Inc., and its Board of Regents, announced Friday at a meeting at Chautauqua that the Institution's income this past year from total investments amounted to $62,131, an increase over 1957 of $1,531.

Harold F. Reed, president of the Foundation, reported that Endowment Funds had grown to a total of $1,198,343, an increase since last year of $29,000.

It was expressed at the meeting that the Foundation had no present plans for a financial campaign, but it was hoped that the Endowment Funds might be increased to $2 million.

Three Jamestown men are currently serving on the Board of Directors of the Foundation. They are Paul N. Anderson, vice president, Wilson C. Price, board member, and Harley G. Selkregg, investment committee member.

Ralph McCallister, vice president in charge of programs at Chautauqua, praised the work of the Foundation and its help from the Endowment Fund which maintains the high standards of activities at the Institution. He reported that the present season at Chautauqua has been highly successful when viewed against a background of national economic difficulties and locally unfavorable weather.

Mrs. Nina T. Wensley, chairman of the Board of Regents, announced the donation to the Foundation of a historical document on the "dark days" of Chautauqua. The document relates the development of what became known as the Chautauqua Reorganization Corporation which made possible the continuance of the Institution and the originating of Chautauqua Foundation and the Endowment Fund.

East started with exactly two spades, three diamonds and four clubs and hence must have also held exactly four hearts.

This meant that West started with only two hearts and still would be holding them. Each opponent is down to two hearts and South's three hearts are good irrespective of who holds the queen. He has used the squeeze to eliminate the need for a finesse.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT

Says the DuBois Courier-Express:
 It's a few years distant, nevertheless voters in the Congressional districts represented by Congressmen Jimmy Van Zandt and Leon Gavin may find themselves voting for a single representative come 1961.

For a Census Bureau forecast that Pennsylvania will lose three congressional seats in 1961 has already been revealed.

A reapportionment would affect the areas currently served by Reps. Gavin and Van Zandt, since the districts represented by these men are reported under average in population and presumably would be enlarged under reapportionment.

It could well be possible that a reapportionment would cause sitting congressmen to oppose each other, or it could also be that retirement would avail itself for one or the other.

Who will be the Washington state the question is "advances to the victims?"

The State Legislature will perform the actual reapportionment since Congress has no authority for such action.

When the President determines, after the 1960 census, these changes required in allocation of House seats to the states, he notifies Congress in January, of 1961. If Congress fails to change the allocation within 15 days, it goes into effect, each governor being notified of his state's total. The allocation becomes effective in 1962 elections.

If a state which loses congressional seats does not reapportion itself by that time, it must elect all its congressmen at large.

Representation, incidentally, as we know, is based upon population. Pennsylvania is not losing population, but is not gaining as rapidly as many states in the Midwest, West and South.

Fourteen states in all will lose house seats, nine will increase their representation, according to present surveys by the Census Bureau.

In event you're interested in the state which, at the moment, stands to garner the heaviest gain, it's California, with the present indications looming as seven additional House seats for the coast-state.

Monday's Chuckle comes from "Pipe Line" commenting on the words of the placid housewife to friend viz: "I'm glad George isn't perfect. I just love to nag."

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on the five major changes just voted by Congress in the Social Security program. President Eisenhower is expected to sign them into law shortly. Most won't go into effect until next Jan. 1.

They involve everyone under the program. They cover a higher Social Security tax and higher payments to retired workers. Also included are bigger payments to survivors of deceased workers, disabled workers and needy persons.

THE TAX
 Employers and Employees both have to pay a Social Security tax. For each it now is 2 1/2 per cent on the first $4,200 of a worker's annual earnings, or a maximum tax of $94.50.

On Jan. 1 the tax goes up to 2 3/4 per cent on the first $4,800 of earnings, or $120.

The self-employed after Jan. 1 will pay 3 1/4 per cent on the first $4,800 instead of 3 per cent on $4,200.

RETIRED WORKERS
 Retired workers now drawing Social Security payments will get a 7 per cent boost in checks they receive after Feb. 1.

Their payments now range from $30 a month to $108.50. Under the new law they'll get from $33 to $116. This applies to retired workers already drawing payments before Jan. 1.

Those going on the retirement rolls after that date will receive from $33 to $127, although it will be some years before anyone starts drawing as much as $127. Retired workers' wives because of their age will also get a 7 per cent boost in their checks.

SURVIVORS
 Payments also rise for eligible survivors of a worker who was covered by Social Security but died — before or after reaching 65. They go up Jan. 1, but the increases won't be mailed out until February.

A woman now drawing payments as the widow of a worker will receive an increase of about 7 per cent after Jan. 1. Monthly payments to the widow of a worker — if she has a child under 18 — now range from $45 to $182.50. Payments to her will go up to a minimum of $53 and a maximum of $190.60. What she gets will be based on her husband's earnings, of course, as in the case of all widows.

A widow with two or more children under 18 now gets payments ranging from $50 to $200. They'll go up to a minimum of $53 and to a maximum of $254 a month.

DISABILITY
 Now a covered worker — if he's at least 50 and is totally disabled — gets a payment equal to what he would have drawn if he had reached 65 and retired. But his dependents — a wife and children under 18 — have been getting no payments.

Under the new law they will: the same amount they would have received if he had reached 65 and retired. The wife of a disabled worker — if there's no child under 18 — can get no payment until she has reached 62.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE
 About 5,600,000 people not otherwise covered by the Social Security program get government help. These are the needy aged, people too blind or disabled to earn a living, and needy children.

The federal government puts up so much money for them, and their state puts up so much. What they get varies from state to state. The variation depends on how much the state puts up.

The maximum government payment — towards the total government-state payment for people in this group — was $60 a month. It now goes up to $65 and takes effect Oct. 1.

Here and There

In the good old summer time between the Fourth of July and Labor Day, especially during mid-August, is usually looked upon as the "doldrum" season, as far as newspaper reporting is concerned. An evidence of this is found in the headline that turned up this week between the two Jamestown dailies over the future of Celoron Park. On Monday the Post-Journal came out with a story saying "Celoron Park, mecca for amusement seekers since far before the turn of the century, closed its gates to the public today, and workmen began dismantling the various amusement devices. Mrs. Oscar Zimmer, park manager, said that she had no statement to make on the closing, or on future plans for the park area, and that any comment would have to come from Harry Illion, the park owner, who at present is in California. The park was originally built by William Broadhead, founder of industrial Jamestown, and reached its popularity peak around the turn of the century." Tuesday morning The Sun comes out with a story that says "Celoron Park is not closing permanently." That was the substance of a statement issued Monday night by Warren W. Johnson, park attorney, in refuting an item published in the Jamestown afternoon newspaper. The story stirred considerable comment around town when the item, which intimated the park was being dismantled, appeared. Johnson told The Sun the other news story was inaccurate and that he does not wish residents of the area, who already have begun picnic and reunion ideas for next year, to get the idea Celoron won't be in operation in 1959. There are two reasons for closing two weeks before the usual Labor Day termination date, Johnson said. One is the inclement weather this summer, which makes two more weeks' activity impracticable from a business standpoint. The other reason, he said, is that Harry A. Illion, owner of the park, who also operates the large amusement park in Pomona, Calif., felt he needed key personnel of Celoron at Pomona. Johnson informed The Sun that Illion desired to concentrate his attention on the Los Angeles County Fair, which runs from Sept. 12 to 28 and would be beneficial to his park in Pomona. Celoron Park will operate again next year, Johnson declared.

Perhaps nothing in the book serves better to illustrate the character of the place than the following chapter with a reference to the postoffice: "A postoffice was opened to the public by Captain S. S. Hill, on the 27th of July, 1865. The population at that time was about 10,000. The work done by the office was immense. The first mail dispatched contained over 1,000 letters, and the fourth mail over 4,000. When the office was first opened upwards of 10,000 letters per day were handled by the postmaster and his assistants. During the December following the opening of the office it was entered by burglars and the mail bags stolen. Vigilant efforts were made to discover the thieves, but without success. A few days after the robbery the empty mail bags were found under the livery stable connected with the Hubbs house. All that remained of the contents of the bags was subsequently found behind a large rock on the highest point of the Walter Holeman farm, near the reservoir of the Pithole Water works. The amount of business proved too large for the office, which was moved in the fall to the Chase house building. When the business was at its height, in 1885, it was found necessary to throw open every window of the office to accommodate the crowd, and even then it was not an uncommon occurrence for some hasty individual — on hand just in time to fall in behind a dozen or more others — to buy out the more lucky person nearest the delivery window, and thus get his mail a few minutes sooner. This buying of positions developed into quite a business and frequently a large 'bonus' was paid. Sunday was the day for everybody to go to the office, and long before the appointed time for opening, a line of news-seeking individuals would be formed, extending for many rods down the streets, each man clinging to his neighbor in front to retain his position. For many months the Pithole postoffice was the third in size in the state — Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Pithole being the order in which they ranked." (Editor's Note: The booklet entitled "Pithole: Vanished City of Oil Where the Pipeline Was Born in 1865," mailed to us by Stevenson, is an interesting document about the fabulous and historic oil town. It makes a valuable addition to collections on early oil days of the district.)

Acknowledgment is made of one of the breeziest trade publications to reach our desk in some months. The introduction is self explanatory: "Pithole as this little house organ will be known, will come to you every once in a while with our reactions and comment on local, trade and current topics of timely interest and significance. We trust you will read and enjoy Pithole. We'll enjoy sending it to you!" Published by Mohr Printer there is an appreciation "for graceful support" received since Mr. and Mrs. William Lombard took over operation of the plant two years ago. There is a long article on the subject "Are Our Schools Doing the Proper Job?" Other subjects cover national and international news; a boost for Worth Hammond, of Columbus, new Democratic county chairman; an interesting column under the heading "Just Moseying Around: a couple poems, etc." Explaining the name chosen for the leaflet a paragraph says "It was coined from the English words 'Punting Topics', more timely use of which we plan in subsequent issues."

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

She didn't stop to check the facts before passing along a bit of attention-getting gossip. She didn't even stop to think that by spreading the story she might be hurting someone.

This is how malicious and often untrue stories get spread around, by those who haven't the good manners to treat others as they would like others to treat them.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A tightening money market and rising interest rates are shaping up today as business lays its fall plans and the U.S. Treasury gets set to borrow more money.

Effects on you as a consumer, installment borrower or home builder may be farther off, even if inevitable. But for the business man it's a more immediate problem.

The season is at hand when manufacturers should step up their borrowing to produce the cars and gadgets and finery for the fall markets. Merchants will be borrowing to order and carry stock for the autumn and Christmas trade. Food processors will be needing funds to finance the long journey of this year's bountiful crops from the farm to the merchant's shelves or freezers.

And if the recovery signs grow stronger after Labor Day, borrowing may increase for the rebuilding of low inventories and the production of more goods in anticipation of better times ahead.

The tightening of money and the rise in interest rates currently is confined almost entirely to the short term money market and to medium term government securities.

Bank loans to business and agriculture haven't shown much change. The volume of the loans is still well below a year ago. Potential borrowers apparently are still waiting to see if the recovery signs mean much or little.

Money has been tightening in the short term market for two reasons:

1. The Treasury has to raise large sums as the predicted 12-billion-dollar deficit develops. Uncle Sam's need for new money has affected the price and yields of Treasury securities already issued.

2. The federal reserve system is afraid that business recovery will set off a new inflationary boom, and is tightening the market — if only psychologically — by raising the margin for stock traders and by letting the San Francisco Reserve Bank raise the interest charge for any member bank that might want to borrow from it to make loans to business.

One of the big fears is that if the money market doesn't calm down before money becomes too tight and borrowing too dear, the recovery which is now a gleam in the business eye will be still born.

The job of midwives will be a ticklish one for both the federal reserve and the Treasury.

Dousing the Brush Fire Will Be Enough for U.S.

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles heads the American delegation to the United Nations General Assembly in New York with only faint hopes that it will produce any immediate solutions for the Middle East crisis.

The special session is expected to last not more than 10 days or two weeks. This is time for only general discussions.

There has been a welter of speculation on whether the United States would go into this special session with a broad, constructive plan for solution of all Middle East problems, or whether there would be no plan at all.

ACTUALLY, PRESIDENT EISENHOWER and Secretary Dulles have been taking a cautious approach to this General Assembly. They will be satisfied if they achieve a number of limited objectives to solve immediate woes. Among them are:

1. Guarantee for the independence of Lebanon and Jordan. The present Middle East crisis really began with the complaints of these two countries to the U.N. Security Council that their independence was threatened by subversion.

The situation in Lebanon can be dealt with if all other countries will agree to preserve its status as an independent nation. When that is done, U.S. forces can be withdrawn.

The situation in Jordan is more difficult. The British would like to withdraw. But Jordan is so weak that its security cannot be assured unless there is outside aid. The formula for this will have to be worked out.

2. Agreement to curb indirect aggression. The problem here is that if free governments can be bought off or changed by assassination of their leaders, the world is in for a bad time.

Bans on indirect aggression will have to include agreements not to intervene in the affairs of other governments and to refrain from inflammatory broadcasts.

The difficulty of the nonintervention agreement is that the things the United States wants Russia and the United Arab Republic to stop doing are the very things that the U.S.S.R. and the U.A.R. accuse the U.S. and the U.K. of doing in sending their troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

The problem of curbing Radio Moscow and Radio Cairo has been wrestling with in vain for years.

3. CREATION OF A PERMANENT United Nations police force. If such a force had been in existence when revolt broke out in Lebanon, trouble there might have been prevented.

But it is recognized that creation of a U.N. police force, as called for by the U.N. charter, presents many problems.

How shall it be organized? Who will run it? When will it be ordered into action? It will obviously take time to work out these details. It won't be done in two weeks.

4. Control of international traffic in arms. Gunrunning has been as big an illicit business in the Middle East as in Latin America. How the General Assembly can prevent it is in doubt.

5. ECONOMIC AID PLANS for the Middle East. There has been much guessing that some grandiose giveaway would be presented at this time.

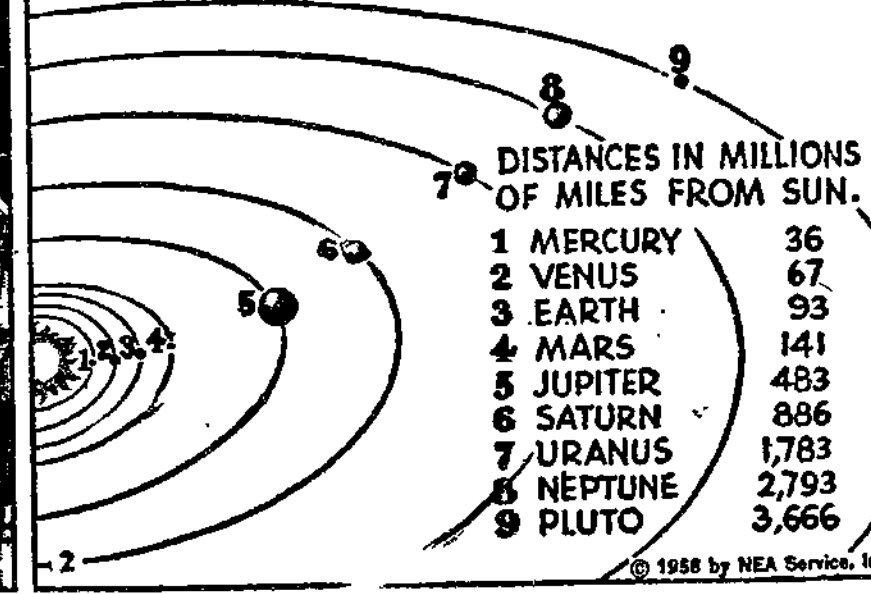

There have been dozens of Middle East plans before. But the nations in these areas have simply been unable to agree among themselves on how these plans should be carried out.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (3)—Newton

(1) The giant of his age was Isaac, Newton (1642-1727) of England. Inventor of the reflecting telescope, his work on lenses and optics led him to the discovery of the nature of light—the spectrum. This knowledge has enabled modern astronomers to weigh and measure even the distant stars. Proceeding from Galileo's findings, Newton, at the age of 24, began the work which resulted in his famous law of gravitation. At last an age-old dream was fulfilled—the mechanism of the cosmos was explained by a single universal force.

(2) Bit by bit man enlarged and expanded his knowledge of the solar system and the universe. In 1672 Cassini measured the distance to the Sun. In 1673 Roemer measured the speed of light. In 1701 Halley accurately predicted the return of the comet which has been named after him. In 1750 Wright recognized the Milky Way as a star system. Herschel discovered Uranus in 1781 and began the monumental task of counting the stars. Leverrier, in 1846, predicted the existence of Neptune—a noteworthy triumph for science. In 1881 the Sun's temperature was measured. In 1888 Schiaparelli discovered the so-called canals of

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Mars. In 1916 Einstein brought out his theory of relativity. In 1930 Pluto was discovered.

(3) Today, with the giant 100 and 200-inch telescopes, the horizon of astronomy has expanded even further—into a third order of the cosmos. The first is the solar system. Next, the Milky Way, of which the Sun is a minor and unimportant member. Finally, astronomers have recognized that the Milky Way is only one of an innumerable number of galaxies. Science has caught up with Giordano Bruno's vision of infinity.

Forest Fire Record Drops Below the 100,000 Mark

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Smokey Bear finally has broken 100.
The big guy in the fur coat, symbol of the forest service campaign to reduce the fire toll of timber and wildlife, might look a little happier on the familiar warning posters on the basis of last year's record.

Finished totalling up the reports, the service figures there were only 83,400 forest fires in the nation last year. That was the first year that fires dropped below the 100,000 mark and compared with 143,000 the previous year. The area burned was reduced by just about half.

Ten years ago, there were more than 200,000 fires.

The improvement, however, was not a general thing. In the South, the Southern Forest Fire Conference formed two years ago in New Orleans could take a good deal of credit in the area's cutting its number of fires by more than half. Under the system, law enforcement at even the county level has slashed a major cause—the incendiarist.

But in some other states, acreage burned increased from two to seven times. In Idaho, only a few more fires destroyed trees on more than 135,000 acres, compared with less than 20,000 acres burned the year before.

Alaska, not included in the state totals for 1957, had one of its worst fire years on record, with 264 fires burning over nearly 5 million acres.

Who was the guy responsible for starting most of them? The fellow who started out to burn rubbish. So Smokey still has work to do.

Social Security News of Interest

Old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits are being paid in Chautauque County, N. Y. and Warren County, at the rate of 11½ million dollars a year, according to Chester R. Norman, manager of the Jamestown, N. Y. Social Security Office.

"Our studies have shown that many of these aged people, widows and orphans have little or no other resources," Mr.
Norman pointed out. "For something like 9%, social security benefits, received as an earned right, are the only cash income."

Mr. Norman also stressed that while the benefits are intended primarily as a basis for individual economic security, the payment of social security benefits amounting to approximately 8.9 million dollars per year in Chautauque County and 2.6 million dollars per year in Warren County helps business generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing, and other necessities.

"This is especially important in a time of economic recession," he said. "Social Security benefits are being paid nationally at a rate of more than 8 billion dollars annually."

Payments to a retired worker averages about $65.00 per month. The average for a widow with two young children is $145.00. The maximum payment for a retired couple is $162.80 a month and the maximum for a family is $200.00 per month.

"There were several reasons for the increase over last year," Mr. Norman said. One was the payment of benefits to people who were brought under the law for the first time in recent years — self-employed farmers for example. Other reasons for the increase was the reduction in the retirement age to 62 for women and the starting of disability insurance benefits to disabled people age 50 or over.

James L. O'Neil, 120 East Fifth avenue, and his house guest, Harold J. O'Connor of Pittsburgh, have returned from a Great Lakes cruise and stay at Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island, Mich.

Charles Blondin was the assumed name of Jean Francois Gravelet, famous French tight-rope walker.

Cole Hill Founders' Family Has Reunion

COLE HILL—The 54th reunion of descendants of Sidney W. and Jennie Sloan Cole, first settlers of Cole Hill, was held at Island Park in Youngsville, with the following relatives present:

Mr. and Mrs. George Cole and children, Doris, Carol and David; Charles Cole and children, Mary Helen, Ellen, Jane Charlotte and Ada Mae, Farnham, O. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cole, Warren, Mrs. Martha Houghnott, Mrs. Rose Enos, Russell; H. C. Pieble, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Henry, Cory; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth and children, Clara Mae, Wilma, Doris, Sarah, George and Carl, Nellie Wentworth, Doris Crew, Cole Hill.

Following a bountiful picnic dinner, the business session was conducted by George H. Cole, president, who also offered prayer. Reports were given by the secretary, Nellie Wentworth, and historian, Mrs. Martha Houghnott.

There have been two births, one marriage and one death in the family during the past year: Patsy Lynn, to John and Evangeline Merry Hopkins January 23, 1958; Charlene Louise, to Dale and Charlotte Wentworth Storer July 27, 1958. Walter Sherman Cole, son of Mrs. Virginia Cole and the late Lewis Cole, Stoneham, and Sandia Ellsworth were married July 15, 1958 in the Warren EUB church. Mrs. Eunice Wilcox Cole, widow of George E. Cole, died June 13, 1958 at the hospital in Salem, Ore., having lived in that state for the past 54 years.

It was reported Mr. and Mrs. George Cole and family have returned from a trip to the west coast where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Blair, Manteca, Calif.; Juanita, Evelyn and Lyle Cole at Bell, Calif.

Officers are the same as last year—President, George H. Cole; vice president, Charles S. Cole; historian, Martha Houghnott; secretary, Nellie Wentworth.

The young people enjoyed roller skating at the rink. Next reunion will be the first Saturday in August, 1959 at Island Park.

Baptist Service For Ordination Of Pastor's Son

The hour of 2:30 p. m. next Tuesday, August 26, is the time set for the meeting of a Council composed of pastors and two delegates from each of the 26 member-churches of Bethany Baptist Fellowship of Independent Baptist Churches, the session to be held in Pennsylvania Avenue Baptist church.

Philip Hook, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest A. Hook, at present working for a doctorate from Dallas, Texas, Theological Seminary, is the candidate for ordination who will meet with the Council.

He will face questioning concerning his conversion, call to the ministry, and his doctrinal beliefs. If approved by the

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MARVIN KELLEYS

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kelley, of Russell, will observe open house at their home Sunday, August 24, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. The hours will be from two until four in the afternoon and seven until nine in the evening, and all relatives, neighbors and other friends are cordially invited to call.

Council, an ordination service will be held the same evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Charles C. Rytte, newly-elected president of the Philadelphia College of the Bible and close friend of young Hook, will deliver the ordination sermon. All interested friends are invited to both services.

Men Are Such Odd Critters— They Don't Understand Logic

Men are funny. It's almost impossible to make a man understand things most any woman accepts as a matter of fact. Such things as: A mink wrap is really economical because it goes with everything and you can wear it for simply ages.

After you have bought a new sofa the rest of the furniture in the living room looks so shabby it simply has to be done over.

A certain woman bores you but you've known each other for so long you wouldn't think of having a party and not inviting her.

You're having your club at your house for a meeting, which means you have to do a complete housecleaning job, from washing windows to waxing floors.

You don't like so-and-so but you're burned up because you have heard she doesn't think very highly of you, either.

You go to a party all dressed up in a new dress and the evening is ruined for you because there's another guest wearing a dress like yours.

You have a closet full of clothes but simply haven't a thing to wear.

You positively hate the new styles and know they aren't going to be becoming to you, but still you won't feel well-dressed until you are wearing the unbecoming new look.

You feel you are being economical because you spent the money you saved by not buying something you feel you couldn't have afforded without that self-denial.

There are so many things men don't understand that are so simple and logical to any woman.

Mrs. Mable Wilbur, 113 Farm Lane, and Russell Blum of 109 1/2 Oak street, Warren, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Anita, to Edward Sadley, son of Mrs. Sophia Sadley of Sheffield Star Route, and the late Mr. Sadley. A 1955 graduate of Warren High School, the bride-to-be is employed by New Process Company. Mr. Sadley, who attended Sheffield schools and has just completed two years with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C., is presently a Warren State Hospital employee. Wedding plans are incomplete.

Green - Lempicki Rites August 1st

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Porter, Chandlers Valley, announce the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Porter Lempicki, to Clarence S. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green, 37 Locust street, Warren, on August 1.

The double ring ceremony was performed in Youngsville Methodist church by the Rev. J. Norman Holder.

The bride chose a street length dress of beige lace, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Her matron of honor and only attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Anthony Pirillo. Her navy and white street length ensemble was accented with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Raymond L. Green served his brother as best man.

Selecting white accessories and remembered with white carnation corsages, Mrs. Porter wore a dress of teal blue, Mrs. Green was in navy blue.

A reception for the immediate families followed at the bride's home, where appointments featured a three-tier cake, topped with miniature bride couple and made by Mrs. Raymond Green. Aides were Mrs. Carl Roberts and Miss Burdessa Green.

Returning from a brief wedding trip, the newlyweds are living in Chandlers Valley. For travel, the bride chose a black sheath dress touched with white lace and accented with white accessories.

The bride is employed as a nurse in the Warren General Hospital emergency room; Mr. Green, by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., Warren.

Suggestions for Teaching Your Child to Swim

Gold old summertime means swimming to most youngsters. Swimming is a wonderful exercise. It's good fun and what's more every child should learn this important skill.

But like all good things there are a few drawbacks that go along with it.

Almost every child is timid about his first encounter with a big body of water — anything bigger than the bathtub. It doesn't make too much difference at what age this first experience takes place — he is going to be wary of getting more than the big toe wet. There is only one thing to do — go easy and let him play near the water until he is ready to go further. You make haste by going slowly.

Every summer at every beach you see enthusiastic fathers carry screaming children into the water. And every time you see this you can be sure there is a child who will be a long time getting over his fear of the water — if he ever does. Don't push, don't nag, don't be little to a child for being a sissy. Let him play on the beach, dig in the sand, or fool around the edge of the pool. Be on hand to go in with him when he is ready but wait for the signal from him that he is ready.

Waiting and doing nothing is often the hardest thing to do. Especially is this true if the trip to the beach has been made with infinite trouble and is not soon to be repeated.

You had wanted so much to see your youngster enjoy the water and you leave with the feeling the trip was wasted if he doesn't go in. You will just have to swallow your disappointment. It takes some children a whole summer before they will venture in above the knees.

There are several rules about swimming that should be established. No one ever swims alone. This is as important for grown-ups as for children. No matter how good a swimmer you are there is always the possibility of a cramp or some other accident. There should always be a minimum of two people, both of whom can swim well.

Second, we have always found the "buddy" system most helpful if you have a group in swimming together. Each person has one person whom he keeps in sight every minute of the time. If anything happens to the buddy his pal knows it right away and can call for help. It's amazing how one child in a group of half a dozen or more can be out of sight for 10 or 15 minutes before the adult in charge misses him.

The buddy system not only helps the adult in charge but also gives the youngsters themselves a sense of responsibility and an awareness of the dangers of swimming.

Clergyman Back To Driving Nails And Sawing Wood

CLYMER, Pa. (AP) — A Methodist minister who shed his carpenter's apron for clergyman's vestments has gone back to pounding nails and sawing wood.

Almost every day except Sunday the Rev. Robert S. Lehman dons his old carpenter's overalls and works at reconstructing his church, which was wrecked by fire last May 19.

Church officials didn't have to look far for immediate assistance in planning a new structure.

Pastor Lehman, a native of Dayton, Ohio, earned his living as a carpenter before becoming a minister 27 years ago. And in the interim he hasn't forgotten how to handle a hammer and saw.

He plunged into construction of the new structure which will have a sanctuary and fellowship hall to accommodate some 200, plus four Sunday school rooms and a kitchen.

Today the sub-flooring is well under way. The Rev. Mr. Lehman is doing most of the work, although some members of the congregation pitch in from time to time.

The work is going well but Pastor Lehman isn't sure when it will be completed. He says:

"If some of those who stand back and criticize would come and pound nails it would be under roof by this time. If we don't get any more of the congregation interested, it might be three years."

Cost of the new church in this western Pennsylvania community is expected to exceed $20,000, even with materials being purchased at cost. Some $15,000 is available from fire insurance on the old church.

"The insurance money won't be sufficient to construct and furnish the building," the Rev. Mr. Lehman says. "But we hope we won't have to solicit for funds."

Meanwhile, Pastor Lehman is holding services for his 180-member congregation in the nearby Presbyterian Church.

25-Year Plan To End Fight Over the Keystone Shortway

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philadelphia's Mayor Richardson Dilworth looks to a 25-year plan now being evolved for development of Pennsylvania's highway system to end controversy over the proposed Keystone Shortway.

"We're working hard at it now," Dilworth said. "This plan will involve the Shortway, the Delaware Expressway and all other major proposed highways."

Collaborating on the plan in the Philadelphia area, Dilworth said, are the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Philadelphia Movement, and city officials.

He said informal talks already have been held with Pittsburgh officials and that groups along the shortway route—a proposed 290-mile superhighway between Sharon and Stroudsburg—also are being consulted.

Of the State Highways Department, he said: "They know we are doing this and they're encouraging us."

Dilworth discussed the highway situation in an interview following a meeting Tuesday with House Speaker Sam Rayburn. The Philadelphia chief executive and Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh were members of a group of seven big-city mayors appealing to Rayburn for help in winning eleven-hour passage of new federal housing aids.

Dilworth and some southeastern Pennsylvania groups made the proposed Shortway a controversial matter some time ago when they voiced fears that early completion of the toll-free highway across north-central Pennsylvania might jeopardize toll collections on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

They also said they feared it might siphon off truck traffic from the midwest into New York City instead of the Port of Philadelphia.

Proponents of the road—to be 90 per cent financed by federal funds—say it will bring new development to the area it traverses.

Dilworth said the new over-all highway development plan is being evolved to resolve this controversy and set a system of priorities in roadbuilding in the Commonwealth.

1958 Growing Season in the State Reported Plenty Wet

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's weather-plagued farmers are singing a new refrain this year. After five years of crop-killing dry spells the 1958 growing season may be too wet.

But given a choice—and the weather can never be right for all farmers and all crops—they prefer wet over dry. That's the consensus of an Associated Press statewide crop and weather survey.

The rainfall generally has promoted excellent crop growth. But at the same time damp, humid conditions have slowed the harvest of crops.

Wet weather also has promoted the growth of weeds and has contributed to increasing the usual bothersome insects and plant diseases.

The crop most seriously hampered by the wet weather has been hay. Wet hay rots quickly in the field after it is cut. If brought into a barn, wet hay will become moldy in short order and create a fire hazard through spontaneous combustion.

But the State Crop Reporting Service said that haymaking is now progressing rapidly. Farmers took advantage of better weather last week in the north and central areas to get their second cuttings into the barn. Third cuttings probably will begin in the southeastern region this week.

The service said wheat and oat yields are excellent—some of record proportion—despite rain-delayed harvests.

Corn is shaping up well, it added, in the south and central areas. Ironically, for that crop farmers are calling for more rain to fill out ears.

The potato crop in many areas was a victim of the wet weather, with tubers in low-lying fields rotting out.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported that rainfall is heaviest in the western part of the state, averaging from two inches above normal since April 1 in the Erie area to nearly four inches above normal in the Pittsburgh area.

In central Pennsylvania, at Williamsport, rainfall is averaging about two inches above normal since April 1. But at Harrisburg, south and east of the mountains, rainfall for the same period is two inches below normal.

YOUNGSVILLE

YOUNGSVILLE — Island Park is a busy place during the summer. Besides a number of local church and fraternal groups using its facilities last week, it was the scene of the county Republican picnic on Wednesday, two reunions on Saturday, and six on Sunday.

WCTU will picnic on the lawn at Mrs. Stanley Deshner's at 12:30 p. m. Thursday, each member to bring a tureen and table service.

The Rev. J. Norman Holder has been in charge of morning devotions over WNAE Tuesday and today.

There was a good attendance from the local Free Methodist church at the annual conference at Pleasantville Camp grounds last week.

Boy Scout Troop 31 is conducting a scrap and rag drive Saturday and residents are asked to have their contributions at the curb or to call Marion Blackmer, Logan 3-4466, or James Thompson, Logan, 3-7673.

Christine and Linda Adamack, Erie, spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jones. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adamack came for their daughters, leaving their son, Chuck, for a visit this week.

Charging Bull Is Driven Off by a Four-Year-Old Boy

LONDON (AP)—David and Goliath met again in battle Tuesday.

Goliath is a 1,200-pound bull which charged through two barbed wire fences and terrorized 16 children.

David is a 43-pound boy who like his Biblical namesake refused to give ground.

They met in a playing field at Slyfield Green, Surrey.

David was playing on the swings when the big black bullock charged snorting into the field. All but David ran screaming from his path.

"I got a stick and hit the bull and said 'Shoo,'" David said. "The bull just stood still when I hit him. So I hit him again. He stamped his feet. So I hit him again."

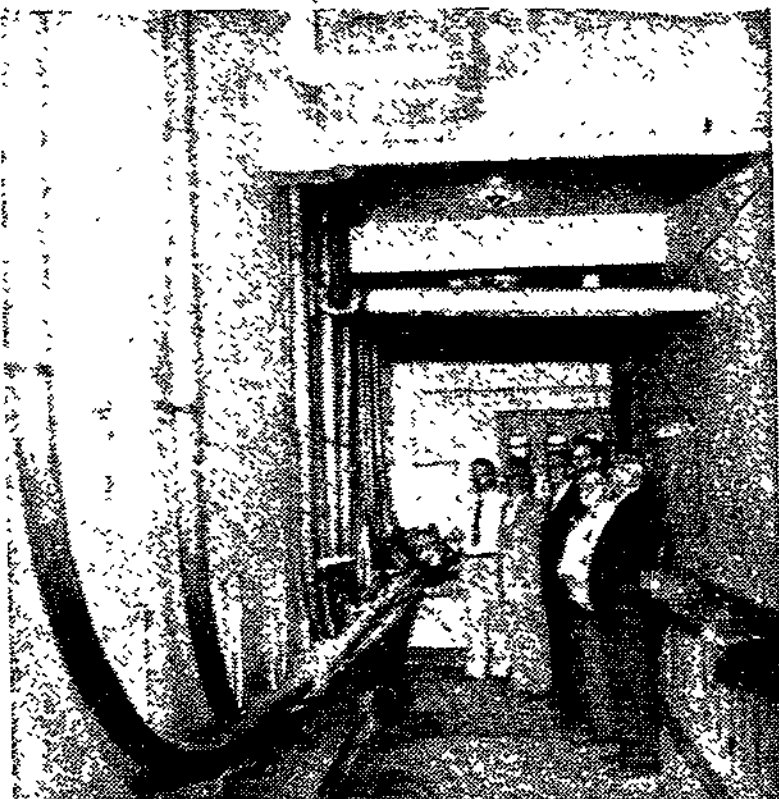

That was enough for Goliath the bullock. He turned and fled.

Today Goliath's days were numbered. He was grazing again in a field not far from a local slaughterhouse.

Primed for marriage by sliding an application through the office of Gurney Ball, Register and Recorder, are: Harold Chase Putnam, Jr., of Warren and Mary Janet Dalrymple of North Warren; Donald Robert Sperry of RD 2, Corry, and Margie Kay Molnar of Corry; John Owen Feeny of R. D. 2, Akeley and Diane Lucille Mas Swanson of RD 2, Warren.

FERRIS WHEEL ACCIDENT

Mrs. Franklin Swanson of Mt. Jewett received hip and knee injuries and her son Bobby, aged about 11, was bruised Monday night in a ferris wheel mishap at the Mt. Jewett carnival grounds. Reports indicated the brake on the ferris wheel let loose as Mrs. Swanson was about to step into the car and so was knocked to the platform. Her son tried to keep the cars from hitting her and was struck by three of the cars, it was reported by witnesses. Mrs. Swanson was brought to Kane in the Van Aken ambulance. X-rays are being taken to determine complete extent of injuries. Her condition is listed as good today. Bobby did not require medical attention, it was stated.

KANE INDUSTRY

Kane Republican: Activity of the New York Lumber and Panel company, Kane's newest industry, is advancing following completion of a railroad switch designed to permit loading and unloading under cover at the former Holgate No. 1 plant. The KAIDC Industry Project No. 1 plans to move fast in setting up the machinery to begin operation at the earliest possible date. Much of the machinery and equipment has been moved here with more to come. Some incidental work at the plant is being done along with the machinery installation. Extension of the railroad switch was completed over the weekend by a Baltimore and Ohio railroad crew which worked through Sunday to assist in advancing the industry plans. Representatives of the company, including Ralph Generale, brother of President John Generale, are here to set up the operation.

With the Candidates

DEMOCRATIC

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joseph Barr, state Democratic chairman, says the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania is now completely unified.

Barr made the statement Tuesday after Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democratic candidate for governor, claimed the endorsement of Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman whom he defeated in the primary. Lawrence and Barr both said they interpreted a telegram Furman sent Lawrence as an endorsement.

And a source close to Barr said a formal announcement of Furman's support may be made in a few days.

In Harrisburg, Furman said "up to this point I have not endorsed anybody."

Lawrence received Furman's telegram Tuesday while the Pittsburgh mayor was attending a luncheon for the state's 67 county Democratic chairman. The telegram read:

"Due to a business engagement, I am unable to accept your invitation to attend today's meeting. Please accept my regrets and extend my best wishes to all the chairmen who are there with you. 'I am sure they will share my pride with you on the magnificent accomplishments which have transformed Pittsburgh, under your vigorous leadership, into the great and vibrant city it is today.'"

According to Barr, the telegram was Furman's first statement since the primary in which Lawrence polled 730,229 votes compared to Furman's 194,464.

Furman backed the Democratic organization in the primary and occasionally directed sharp attacks against Lawrence.

In one speech during the primary campaign, Furman charged Lawrence with "wearing a mask of political humility behind which there is an aggressive longing for a place in the political hall of fame." He referred to Lawrence as a "boss."

The telegram came as Lawrence was in the midst of final plans for a campaign swing that will begin in Potter County tonight and carry him through the state's 66 other counties. He has 300 speeches scheduled.

Gov. Leader, who arrived at the meeting later, said he was pleased to note what he called the friendly tone of the telegram. The meeting was called to discuss campaign strategy.

REPUBLICAN

HARRISBURG (AP)—A state labor leader has asked the Republican Platform Committee to help abolish "the spoils system and the patronage grab-bag" which he said have produced mediocrity in state works.

Joseph A. McDonough, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor president, said he hoped both political parties had "enough state pride to place the welfare of the state above the welfare of the party."

"Specifically, we propose that both political parties pledge themselves to the enactment of civil service legislation such as exists in the federal government," McDonough told the Platform Committee at its meeting here Tuesday.

McDonough proposed the same measures recently in an appearance before a Democratic Party committee seeking suggestions for its platform.

Harry Boyer, president of the state CIO, made similar proposals. He also asked for a public vote on whether the income tax should replace the sales tax.

In another statement before the committee, the Pennsylvania Pure Water Assn. called for better enforcement of the clean streams program and establishment of a uniform state sanitary code.

Oddities in the News

CHIMNEY ROCK, N.C. (AP)—The auto swerved out of control off U.S. 74 near here, plunged down a 100-foot embankment, overturned twice and plopped upright in a shallow section of the rocky Broad River. Officers found the lone occupant, 56-year-old Bramlett Alvin Ballard, sitting behind the wheel in neck-high water with only a bruised forehead.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—The Boy Scouts of America will begin construction this fall of a museum to house historical items of scouting. Items to be displayed will include uniforms, photographs and other mementos of the scout movement. The museum will be the gift of Gale F. Johnston, St. Louis banker and vice president of the BSA since 1951.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Edward G. Robinson, 64, undergoes minor bladder surgery today at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The operation is not serious, a spokesman said. Robinson became ill Sunday on a flight from New York.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Rose Gadbois, 64, a stenographer, completed 40 years with B-I-F Industries this week. This would not be unusual except that Miss Gadbois has been blind since infancy. Despite the handicap she has won national citations for dictation and typing on technical subjects, using Braille shorthand and dictating machines.

CLEVELAND ROBBERS CAUGHT—Surrounded and subdued, four men who robbed a restaurant and a bar in Cleveland surrender meekly to being shackled together with handcuffs. The gunmen were captured after a chase involving 25 police cars.

SPACE HEARING OPENS—T. Keith Glennan, left, and Dr. Hugh Dryden, right, are greeted by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) as they arrive at a hearing of the Special Senate Subcommittee on Space and Aeronautics in Washington. The committee is investigating the nominations of Glennan as administrator and Dr. Dryden as deputy administrator of the new National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

RAFTS AND WRECKAGE—Sharp squalls are believed to have forced down a huge KLM (Royal Dutch Airlines) Super Constellation somewhere in the Atlantic, after it left Shannon (Ireland) Airport for Gander Airport in Newfoundland. The plane's last reported position (No. 1 on Newsmap) was halfway between Shannon and Gander but a Royal Air Force search plane spotted life rafts and wreckage (2) 130 miles off the Irish coast.

Weekly Business Review

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—The government flashed a "stop inflation" warning this week as business indicators pointed higher.

The signal was an increase in the Federal Reserve discount rate—the first since the recession started. It triggered a selling wave on the New York Stock Exchange.

By and of itself, the action seemed unlikely to have any immediate effect on your paycheck, your job prospects or your living costs.

But it did give a tipoff on how the government's top monetary planners—the men who control the nation's money supply—think the economic winds are blowing. In the view of the Federal Reserve Board, inflation is now a greater danger than recession. Higher prices and cheaper dollars are a bigger menace than unemployment. Therefore, in the thinking of these men, a gentle tug on the reins is called for.

The move accompanied fresh signs the economy is pulling out of its slump.

Home building activity in July bounced up to its highest level in 18 months. Personal income of Americans in July set an all-time record. The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production for July showed a gain of two percentage points over June. Auto sales in the first 10 days of August took an encouraging upturn.

Arthur O. Dietz, president of C. I. T. Financial Corp., said consumers are paying off their installment indebtedness at the rate of 113 million dollars a day, or 4½ million dollars an hour. He predicted an upsurge in installment buying in the months ahead, with a resultant spurt in industrial production.

The rise in the federal reserve discount rate was interpreted by many as a return to the "tight money" policy of 1956 and early 1957.

The increase—from 1½ to 2 per cent—was confined to only one of the 12 Federal Reserve banks, the one in San Francisco.

A nationwide hike in the discount rate—the interest charged by the Federal Reserve on loans to commercial banks—could curb inflation in several ways. It could exert upward pressure on general interest rates—the interest you pay when you buy a car on time, get a mortgage on your house, or borrow money for your business.

Briefly over the business scene: Department store sales in the first week of August topped the like 1957 week by one per cent... Steel production moved up this week for the sixth week in a row... Du Pont announced a new dacron textile fiber that can be used in flannels, sharkskins and other winter apparel fabrics... The men's clothing industry operated at 65 per cent of capacity in the first six months this year compared to 82 per cent in the first half of 1957, the Clothing Manufacturers Assn. reports.

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 14,521,501 shares compared to 18,523,120 shares in the previous week and 8,890,940 shares in the corresponding week a year ago.

Bond sales had a par value of $24,069,000 in the latest week, $30,445,600 in the previous week and $17,652,000 in the same 1957 week.

Deliveries of New Freight Cars Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Deliveries of new freight cars declined in July but orders for new cars increased, the American Railway Car Institute and Association of American Railroads said today.

July deliveries were 2,113 compared with 2,407 in June and 7,725 in July 1957, while July orders rose 18 per cent to 376 from 317 in June. July 1957 orders totaled 1,251.

The backlog of cars on order and undelivered as of Aug. 1 was 25,994 compared with 27,757 a month earlier and 85,229 a year earlier.

William Harvey, famous English physician, discovered how blood circulates in the human body about 1628.

Local Residents Visit Santa Claus

Kids all over the world dream of meeting that famous old gent, but only a chosen few are fortunate enough to have their hopes realized. Debby and Jimmy Spangler, six and three respectively, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Spangler, 104 Division street, recently paid a visit to Santa Claus at North Pole, N. Y., and had their picture taken with him in his Workshop. No doubt, they whispered a few requests in regard to what they would like to find under the tree on Christmas morning. The Spangler family made a tour through the Workshop where they saw his many workers blowing glass, and making toys, dolls, pottery and wrought iron. They also saw his sled and team of eight reindeer, and scraped ice and snow off the North Pole which stands completely frozen in the middle of the village.

Mirrored in Our Times

At the recent GOP picnic, we had the pleasure of talking with a visitor from Yorkshire, England, here for six months to visit his daughter, Mrs. Max Rhodes of Youngsville. Mr. F. J. Henson has been in America once before, but at that time did not have the opportunity to attend a gathering such as the aforementioned. He was pleased and delighted and said that such a crowd would never gather out-of-doors in his country. Mr. Henson also heartily approved of the main address of the evening. From here, the gentleman will travel to South Africa to join his son for a brief time. We sincerely hope that he will return to our midst again one day. It makes one feel good to have a visitor praise our country.

September 5 is the date for the Flower Show, sponsored jointly by The Woman's Club and the Warren Garden Club. Various snatches of conversation indicate that the affair will be truly wonderful and should attract enthusiasts from the entire area.

What with the first touch of fall in the air (and a long, long winter looming ahead), everyone yearns to capture that wonderful touch of spring and a haunting memory of summer. Once the heat waves die away (we'll have more hot days, we're sure), it would be a delight to have handy a fragrance that would bring back that grand and glorious; that "crazy" carefree feeling of the months that we've enjoyed so completely. It can be done, you know—you can actually capture and hold a precious recollection—capture it in several forms—to use lavishly now and to make you happier later.

It's aptly called "Summer Showers"—it's a Prince Matchabelli creation in fragrance that endears itself to the user with each occasion. It's a Warren Drug Store presentation featuring several wonderful items priced at just $1.00 each. At such a price, why not keep plenty on hand—soap; stick deodorant (it's grand); bubbling bath salts; cologne or cream sachet. You'll love it!

CVCC is in readiness for the annual swimming meet and buffet supper on Sunday. Water events are set for 3 p. m.; supper to be served till 5. Boys and girls of all ages will compete in a series of spectacular feats (achieved through the earnest instruction and interest of "Pat" Madden). From the list of young people signed up, this year's meet promises to be the largest yet. "Pat" deserves a great deal of credit for his work with this group of swimmers and divers and the entire membership is glad that he plans to return to his post next year.

Having talked of summer showers and swimming meets, we must turn seriously to autumn and winter and the very definite trend in men's fashions. As one writer said—millions of lines of copy are penned concerning women's styles, but not too many are heaped toward the masculine members among us. For several years now, men of all ages have discarded the casual and hatless look during fall and winter and have paid a great deal of attention to handsome head gear. There's little to be gained in describing the types—just keep in mind that it will soon be time to select the 1958 model. Short-sleeved sport shirts will soon be gently laid away as the out-of-doors males will be seeking warmer versions and wanting more than one comfortable sweater. Guess it boils down to more than just "wanting"—the word is "needing" and we venture a guess that more than one man is already contemplating an entire new and more seasonable wardrobe.

After proper contemplation and without any hesitation, most men head for "The Style Shop" where they'll be presented with the most outstanding selection available—no matter what the weather. The familiar slogan "the best in menswear" is richly deserved by this enterprising shopping center. Don't wait—make a date with The Style Shop for fall and winter wardrobe needs.

Scouts to Attend Order of Arrow Camp Conference

Five representatives of Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scout of America, will leave Warren Saturday for national Order of the Arrow four-day conference at University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas.

Bill Lombard, Jerry Shephard, Cameron Stewart, Bill Elmhurst and Paul Shogren will represent 70 members of the Chief Cornplanter lodge at the honor camping society conference.

Order of the Arrow is dedicated to promoting Scout camping and emphasizing ideals and principles of Scoutism. Order was originated in 1915 and since has spread to all 48 states and Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Germany, Japan, Panama and Mexico. There are 110,000 members in the present 500 lodges.

Everything is in readiness at the university for the influx of 2,500 young men who will reside there during the four-day conference, August 25-28. Boys from Juneau, Alaska, are making the long trip to represent their lodge.

Nerve center of the conference is Memorial Union located on the campus. Here general headquarters, trading post, exhibition hall, press offices and conference offices are located.

Keynote speaker will be Explorer Richard Lee Chappell, 23-year-old member of the scientific team from Antarctic stations of International Geophysical Year. An Order member himself, Chappell is recognized as one of the outstanding young men in Boy Scouts of America.

Other activities will include an Indian pageant, massive barbecue, one of the largest safety shows on earth, camping training fair, group training sessions, like-interest groups, and presentation of induction ceremonies.

Dilworth Sounds Off Again About Shortway

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayor Richardson Dilworth said today he has no quarrel with the Chamber of Commerce over its slant on the Keystone Shortway but that he still feels a rush job on the road would be a mistake.

In any event, he added, he feels that the recent protests from Philadelphia region interests have achieved their first goal.

Dilworth defined this as an effort to break up what he called a hurry-up program in the State Highway Department. He said this was resulting in the department's complete concentration on plans for the Shortway, thus excluding all other federal-interstate highways, especially those proposed for Philadelphia.

Human Torch Inquiry At Apparent Dead End

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—The Frank Kierdorf human torch death investigation was at an apparent dead end today.

With a grand jury inquiry ruled out at this time, authorities admitted they had no new evidence in the baffling 17-day-old mystery.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, conceding no progress from his conference with county prosecutors in Detroit Tuesday, said, "We're back to scratching for small leads."

Police say that Kierdorf, contrary to his deathbed statement, got his burns in an arson job at a Flint, Mich. dry cleaning shop Aug. 3. Kierdorf said two strangers burned him in a deliberate plot.

Goldfine Co. Files Report a Little Late

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine's East Boston Co. has filed—17 days late—its annual report with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

An SEC spokesman indicated Tuesday the agency would not seek to impose punishment even though East Boston, a holding firm, is under a court order to get its reports in on time.

The court order was handed down in 1955 after East Boston failed to file financial statements with SEC from 1945 to 1954.

Erie Man Charged With Voluntary Manslaughter

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—John J. Daniels, 23, of Erie, faces voluntary manslaughter charges in connection with the drowning of a companion.

Det. Capt. Richard Hetico said five persons testified they saw Daniels shove Richard Keyes 42, of Jersey City, N. J., into Erie Bay Monday. Daniels denied the charge.

Andrew Daniels, 50, father of the accused, was released after being held on an open charge.

No Change in District Steel-making Output

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Iron Age Magazine said today district steel-making operations are expected to be the same this week as last week—33 per cent of capacity.

Upper Ohio River district steel mills are scheduled to operate five points above last week's 82 per cent.

Youngstown, Ohio, mills are expected to drop from 52 to 49 per cent of capacity.

Probation Group Fund Drive for Shows Shortage

A shortage of $211.86 in the fourth annual campaign to add $5,000 to the Permanent Endowment Fund of the Warren County Probation Association was reported to the Warren Rotary Club at its regular meeting last Monday.

A list of names of persons and organizations who made small donations in 1954, 1955 and 1956, but who overlooked the matter in the campaign which started in November 1957, or had been missed by the Rotarians having their cards, was given to the club members. As there was not time to pass the list to all members, it will be submitted again, next Monday.

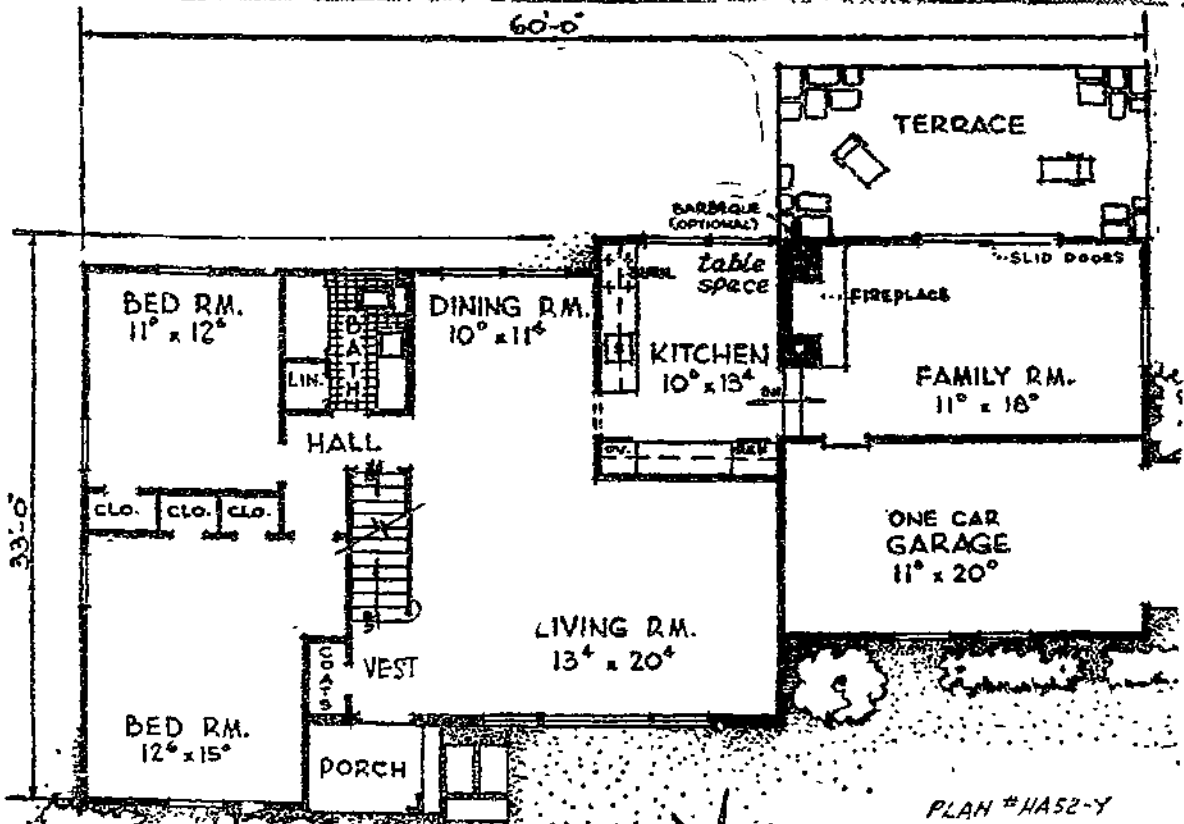

Speaking for the Youth Committee, Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. expressed the hope that the small shortage for the fourth campaign would be made up within a few days.

The fifth campaign will start in November.

Missing Five-Year-Old Bradford Boy Found

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP)—Dexter N. Raulun, 5, of Bradford, has been found after taking a 24-hour stroll from his home.

Richard Bruns, 15, and Gary Bertley, 14, both of Bradford, and part of a searching party of some 200 persons, found the boy Tuesday in a wooded area some three miles from his home. They said he was shoeless.

Somerset Co. Woman Is Killed in Auto Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—A two-car collision Tuesday on Route 30 three miles east of Latrobe killed one Somerset County woman and seriously injured another.

Mrs. Henry E. Spangler, 75, of Stoytown R. D. 3, died in Latrobe Hospital three hours after the accident.

State police said the Spangler car and an auto driven by John L. Leonard 29 of Greensburg collided. Leonard was unhurt.

Horner, 31, who farms on the Penn's Cave Farms six miles east of Centre Hall, won his second consecutive level land state championship in competition here Tuesday. He will represent the state in the national level land plowing contest Friday.

Ford City Man Kills Neighbor Accidentally

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—Robert Arner, 15, of Ford City R. D. 3 has admitted accidentally killing his 66-year-old neighbor while shooting birds near his home, Aug. 9.

State police said the boy had been questioned several times before admitting Tuesday he fired the shot.

John W. Fry, the victim, a retired boiler fireman, was found dead in his home a day later.

Arner told police he was hunting blackbirds with a .22 rifle near Fry's home.

Arner was released in custody of his grandparents pending an inquest.

Cairo Press Angrily Blasts United States

CAIRO (AP)—The Cairo press angrily charged the United States today with "exerting extraordinary pressure and waging a war of nerves" in the U.N. Assembly to gain passage of the Norwegian resolution for stabilizing the Middle East.

The Nasserite papers apparently were surprised by the strength mustered by the Western-backed Norwegian peace plan.

of civic responsibility "must eventually come into play if we are to solve this problem."

The integration statement came at the outset of the news conference. After reading it rapidly and emphatically, the President announced he would have nothing further to say on the subject in view of still pending litigation in the courts.

However, he did lift that embargo momentarily a bit later in saying it would be wrong—and would complicate his job—for him to say how he stands on the integration issue.

Eisenhower dealt with these other topics:

DEFENSE—Eisenhower said he believes U. S. defense forces are not only adequate but the most powerful in American history. They act as a deterrent to war, as they are intended, he added.

New inventions constantly make them even more powerful, Eisenhower said. But he went on to say he does believe that in certain defense areas the government is spending too much. He did not specify those areas.

PRICES—A reporter told Eisenhower some people think he has not displayed vigorous enough leadership in trying to hold down prices.

Eisenhower said, as he has many times, that the only things he can do are appeal to business and labor to keep the wage-price spiral in check, and try to make sure government spending does not get out of line.

Price and wage controls, Eisenhower said, would lead to a controlled economy. He said he is not yet ready to suggest to anyone that a system of controls should be imposed.

GENEVA—Discussing the East-West agreement at Geneva on policing of any nuclear test ban, Eisenhower said it provides grounds to hope we will be able to take still another step toward eventual disarmament.

RED CHINA—Eisenhower said that in his opinion it is not necessary to include Red China in any agreement, such as the technical one reached at Geneva, on policing of a nuclear test ban.

the big contest for control of the House and Senate.

Another questioner asked Eisenhower to appraise the passage by Congress of a farm bill which the newsman said closely parallels the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The President said he believes the Congress members are learning that Benson's policies—often attacked by Democrats during past campaigns—have a lot of sense in them and are good for the country.

Eisenhower also was asked a question about former President Harry Truman—whom he hasn't seen since his inauguration day. Might it be advisable, he was asked, to include Truman and other former presidents as members of the National Security Council.

Eisenhower said Truman had had a very great and tough experience of his own as President, but added he wouldn't talk about personalities.

VACATION—Eisenhower said he would like to get away from Washington for a vacation soon, but has made no decision. Replying to a question he said he does not know yet whether he will return to Newport, R. I., where he vacationed a year ago.

He did say, however, that he would prefer some place other than at his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

POLITICS—Any Republican member of Congress who does not go along with Eisenhower on need for such things as defense reorganization, extension of the reciprocal trade law and foreign aid would be completely at loggerheads with him, the President said, and wouldn't belong in the same political camp.

Eisenhower made that remark when a reporter attempted to find out whether congressmen who do not support the basic administration program will have his support in bids for re-election.

TRUMAN—Eisenhower replied of course he would, when asked whether he ever would consider calling on former President Truman for some service in the present administration.

The matter came up when a reporter said financier and elder statesman Bernard Baruch had suggested that Truman be given a place in the National Security Council.

He answered that of course he might consider calling on Truman.

the matter, involving the Fifth Amendment on nearly 50 questions.

During her testimony, Mrs. Baker said her former husband, from whom she was divorced in 1935—was a good friend of New York's Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman.

The testimony about the Greenlease ransom money and Harriman came as an offshoot of the Senate committee's probe of charges that Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has worked with underworld characters. Baker is one of Hoffa's aides in Detroit.

Police have been trying to find the missing $300,000 since 1953 when 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City was kidnapped and slain. His parents paid $600,000 in ransom and about half of it was recovered when the two kidnappers were arrested. They later were executed.

As Mrs. Baker told it under oath, her ex-husband once said taxi company operator Costello "got the Greenlease money, and that's why he tried to kill himself."

After she left the witness chair, Police Capt. Doherty testified the police also believe Costello has all or much of the vanished money. He said others believed involved are two former St. Louis police officers, Lt. Louis Shoulders and Patrolman Elmer Dolan; and John Hager, a driver for Costello's Ace Cab Co.

Shoulders and Dolan arrested one of the Greenlease kidnappers after a tip from Hager. Both policemen were sentenced to prison in 1954 for perjury on the ground they lied to a Kansas City federal grand jury about handling of the ransom money.

Funeral Information Will Be Found Under Another Heading

G. W. GUSTAFSON
Relatives in this area have received word that Gustaf W. Gustafson, resident of Devon, Chester county, died August 10 in the Bryn Mawr Hospital at the age of 66 years. He had been employed as office manager of the Reo Division, White Motor Car Company, for the past eight years and, prior to that, was with the Autocar Company for 24 years, that firm later becoming a part of the White Company.

Among survivors are his wife and three children; and a number of sisters and brothers, including John and Frank Gustafson, Tidouette; Mrs. Neil Rhodes and Miss Mary Gustafson, Warren.

Funeral services were held in Great Valley Presbyterian church at Paoli.

MRS. JOSEPHINE DUFFIELD
Funeral services were held at 9:00 a. m. Tuesday at Holy Redeemer church for Mrs. Norma Roche Duffield, wife of Joseph Duffield of 105 Alexander St., who died Saturday. Father Joseph Seybold celebrated the requiem high mass at the church, while Father Richard Stack, assistant pastor of St. Bernard's church in Bradford, conducted communal in St. Bernard's cemetery. Serving as bearers were William McCarthy, Donald Zaprowski, Edgar Bennett, Warren Yeagle, Clayton Stoldt and George Kiernan.

Attending the rites from away were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stack, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Newton, Dr. James N. Roche, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flannigan, New York City; Mrs. Bertha Wilson, Crafton; Mr. and Mrs. William Chappell, Waterville, O.; William Roche, Cava Center, N. Y.; Mrs. Russell Ace, Mt. Morris, N. Y.; Mrs. Edmond Kessler, Dansville, N. Y.

MRS. IRENE NELSON
Funeral services will be held in Titusville at 2:30 p. m. Friday for Mrs. Irene Nelson, formerly of that community and sister of Al Coates of Youngville. Interment will follow in Mautly cemetery in Grand Valley.

Mrs. Nelson died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Sundquest, in Cedar Grove, N. Y. Other survivors include several nieces and nephews.

PAUL T. MCCORMICK
Word was received in Warren early this afternoon of the death during the night at Jackson, Mich., of Paul T. McCormick, graduate of Warren High School and well known as a football player in his student days. It will be recalled that his mother operated a restaurant opposite the Glade hotel for many years. He is survived by a brother Ted, who lives in Kane. Another brother Lloyd preceded him in death. Services are being held in Jackson.

Coroner's Jury Rules Mute Killed Himself

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled Tuesday that a deaf mute died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound when his stolen car slammed into a roadblock during a manhunt.

It was first believed officers shot Parham Youngblood, 32-year old itinerant peddler from Toombsboro, Ga.

The peddler died in a blaze of gunfire Monday afternoon four hours after the body of 7-year-old Margie Jones of Melvin, Ky., was found in a field near Sandersville.

Officers had been seeking Youngblood on a kidnapping charge.

Investigators said the deaf mute drove off with Margie Saturday night.

Pacifist Fails To Halt Missile Plant Plans

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A young Chicago self-styled pacifist failed Tuesday in an effort to halt construction of a missile launching site, and was hospitalized when he was struck by a truck during the attempt.

Attendants at Laramie County Memorial Hospital said the condition of Kenneth Calkins, 23, was good. Calkins' wife, Eleanor, 22, said a physician told her her husband suffered a crushed pelvis.

Beekeepers in North Carolina clip a queen bee's wings left on the odd year and right on the even year. This helps in telling her age, and prevents her from flying away in the case of swarming.

Birth Control Battle Lines Being Reformed in Nation

By GEORGE W. CORNELL where, has underscored the runaway population boom, in this country and else-

Roman Catholics are re-emphasizing the church's firm opposition to artificial means of contraception.

On the other hand, several major Protestant denominations have made formal pronouncements, expressly approving birth control under certain conditions.

Church journals and speeches are analyzing the question. The interfaith friction currently is in the spotlight in New York City.

There, the still unresolved controversy is over an unwritten policy barring doctors from prescribing birth control measures in municipal hospitals.

The problem came to light in the case of a physician stopped by an order of Hospital Commissioner Morris A. Jacobs from fitting a diabetic Protestant woman with a contraceptive device.

Catholic groups have applauded the policy, ferming it in keeping with natural law and morality in marriage.

Protestant and Jewish groups have protested it, mainly on the ground that one religious group's views should not be imposed on the others of different views in public hospitals.

The city is about 45 per cent Roman Catholic, the rest divided into smaller Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish segments and other persuasions.

A review of the problem by the Hospitals Board is set for Sept. 17.

Neither city nor state law forbids dissemination of birth control information and treatment. Two states in the country do have such laws—heavily Catholic Massachusetts and Connecticut.

The immediate controversy in New York, however, is only a localized outbreak of heightened religious concern with the issue.

With population experts predicting the human race will double in the next 40 years, straining means of subsistence, the question has developed social as well as individual religious implications.

"Whether we all end up in a world slum or not is going to depend on how sensibly and energetically we tackle the problem," says the Rev. William J. Gibbons of Loyola College, Baltimore, a leading Catholic demographer.

But he and other Catholics stress that other answers must be found than artificial birth control, which is prohibited by papal encyclical and constant Catholic teaching as a violation of the God-ordained natural law of life.

Amid the growing concern with the matter, several major Protestant churches, for the first time, have given official endorsement to birth control at recent national conventions. Said the United Lutheran church: "Irresponsible conception of children up to the limit of biological capacity and selfish limitation of the number of children are equally detrimental."

Others which have formally sanctioned birth control or "planned parenthood" are:

The Methodist Church, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Congregational Christian Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Unitarians and Universalists and the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

Indians Hand Yankees Their Fourth Straight Loss 8 to 6

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's no wonder Al Lopez is the only manager in the American League who isn't afraid of the New York Yankees. Year after year he keeps saying the champs can be had, and year after year he gets around to proving it—but with too little, or too late.

Last year Lopez had his Chicago White Sox right on the Yankees' tail before they folded because his pitching wasn't quite deep enough. This year, he had the pitching, but his pitchers did not have it—until too late.

The Sox didn't get a move on until the Yankees had built their biggest lead of the season, 17 games Aug. 2.

The next day, the Sox swept a double-header from the Yankees behind Dick Donovan and Ray Moore. The Sox have won 14 of 17 since while the Yankees have lost 11 of 18. But that Yankee lead still is comfortable.

Lopez, the only AL skipper to beat Casey Stengel since he took charge of the Yankees in 1949, saw his Sox build their longest winning streak of the year Tuesday night six games. Dick Donovan's four-hitter beat Boston 7-1. Cleveland handed the Yankees their fourth consecutive defeat 8-6. Their lead was cut to 10½ games.

Washington smacked Detroit 3-1 and Kansas City swept a two-night pair at Baltimore 4-1 and 6-4.

Donovan, who has won seven of eight for the White Sox since the All-Star Game, didn't walk a man and struck out five for a 10-11 record. Jackie Jensen had half the Red Sox's hits, a second-inning single and a fifth-inning home run, his 33rd. Frank Sullivan (9-7) was the loser. Jim Rivera hit a two-run homer for Chicago in the seventh.

The Indians handed the Yankees three runs on three errors in a hitless fourth inning, then took it on Rocky Colavito's tying, three-run 28th homer in the fifth and Vic Wertz's winning two-run homer in the seventh. Johnny Kucks (8-6) was the loser. Don Mossi (7-6) won it in relief.

The A's didn't have a hit for five innings off Milt Pappas in the opener, then scored three runs in the sixth on four singles as Ned Garver won his 11th with a five-hitter. A three-run fourth won the nightcap as the A's collected 15 hits and Murry Dickson won his ninth with relief help. Gene Woodling drove in three runs for the Birds, two with his 12th homer. Arnie Portocarrero (12-8) lost it.

Pittsburgh Rookie Finds Cubs Easy Mark for Homers
CHICAGO (AP)—Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates probably wishes he could play all his games against the Chicago Cubs.

In six games against the Cubs, Stuart has belted four home runs and driven in 13 runs.

The rookie first baseman cracked out his 10th homer of the season Tuesday to break a 2-2 tie and give the Pirates a 4-3 victory over the Cubs.

The third-place Pirates gained a game and a half on league-leading Milwaukee, which dropped a doubleheader to Los Angeles, and trail the Braves by 7½ games. San Francisco is in second place, 6½ games off the pace.

Stuart's 450-foot blast came in the sixth inning after Roberto Clemente had singled.

The Pirates scored two runs in the second inning on Bill Mazeroski's two-run homer. It was Mazeroski's 15th of the year.

The Cubs picked up a run in the first when Tony Taylor singled, stole second and scored on two successive throwing errors.

They added another in the fourth on a walk and Dale Long's double. The Cubs' final run came in the sixth.

Rookie Curt Raydon picked up his seventh victory against three losses but needed help from Bob Porterfield after he tired in the seventh.

Welter Champion Is Tangling With Smith in Chicago
CHICAGO (AP)—Welterweight champion Virgil Alkins makes his first appearance since acquiring his crown when he tangles with Charlie (Tomstone) Smith at Chicago Stadium tonight in a non-title bout.

Alkins, 30, of St. Louis, won his title June 6 from Vince Martinez. He has stopped his opponents in his last four fights. His record is 23-17, with one draw.

A Bible student who acts as a lay preacher for the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in East St. Louis, Ill., Alkins stalks his opponents in the ring and has a crushing right-hand punch.

"I haven't Ray Robinson's slickness, I'm not as smart as Archie Moore, and I don't left-jab like Joe Brown," says Alkins. "I fight like Virgil Alkins and so far it's been good enough."

Smith, a 25-year-old from Waco, Tex., is the eighth-ranked contender in the welterweight class. He has won 26 of 33 professional starts and has 13 knockouts. ABC will telecast at 10 p.m., EDT.

THOMAS' WORRY—Exchange Hotel, Bantam Hot Stove Champs, provided Thomas Coupling plenty of worry when they handed them a 5-3 loss in the first playoff. Thomas batted back two days later and laid a 9-1 loss in front of the champs who won the final contest 8-5 to take divisional honors. Soda Mineral Wallops Nino By 17-5 Score

In their first playoff in the two out of three Shaughnessy series, Soda Mineral romped over Nino's Restaurant 17-5 on West Side diamond before 115 City Softball League fans last evening.

Soda Mineral was first in league standings end of the season, Nino fourth.

Winners scored in every inning, Nino's in first, third and last.

D. Baldy aided Soda Mineral's win by belting a home run. J. White, D. Koebley, D. Baldy, W. Check, J. Foley, and M. Speicher doubled. Not to be outdone by their rivals, Nino's B. Schmadler scored a three bagger, D. Smith doubled.

Ford Thinks Pitching 12 Months of the Year

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It is easy to say Eddie Ford is the best pitcher in baseball. The records show it. An old-timer like Ty Cobb talks of him and compares the New York Yankees' left-hander to big pitchers of the past. Casey Stengel grumbles compliments.

But these are words and records. To appreciate just how good Ford is, you have to bat against him. And Eddie Yost, the Washington third baseman, was talking quietly about what it is like to face Ford during a between-trains lunch.

"Nobody does it," he said. "On a 2-0 or 3-1 pitch he throws you a slow curve. Nobody throws the curve then because they can't get it over like this guy does. That's a hard thing about having to hit against Eddie."

"BASICALLY, HE'S GOT THE KIND of control which puts all the burden on the hitter. Much more than usual. You can't afford to take anything he throws and hope to get lucky. He always gets a piece of the plate. He walks nobody. He gets off on you right with the first pitch. Boom! You have a strike on you."

"With a lot of pitchers, you get a chance to think a little. They might have a pattern and if you've seen them enough you can expect certain things. But take Ford. You step in and he starts to throw. You can expect any pitch at any time. He mixes it up. Fast ball—a sneaky fast ball—then a slow curve, then a good curve, then a change-up. Or the other way around. He defeats you."

"The speeds," Norm Zaucha, a table companion, mused. "He's got all different speeds. He keeps you off balance. Don't forget to put that in."

"That's important, isn't it?" one with them asked. "Important?" Yost smiled. "That's the whole business. You don't get a real good idea of how tough he is unless you're in the batter's box. I know, I've seen him from the dugout and he doesn't seem that quick or hard to figure. But then you step in and try to follow him and it is murder."

"IF YOU WANTED TO SUM UP Ford, you just say he has the whole business down and that would do it."

As it always the case with the top notchers, Ford does not step onto the mound and pitch. This season, for example, began for him back in January when he began working out three times a week in a gymnasium near his Glen Cove, L.I., home.

A visitor on one of these nights found Eddie slinging barbells around to strengthen his left shoulder. It had broken down at the start of the 1957 season and it was long weeks before Ford could throw well again.

AFTER THE WORKOUT, Eddie sat in a restaurant and sipped a glass of soda water with his sandwich—"I got to watch my weight or I'll look like you"—and talked about his change-of-pace.

"That's the one I have to work on this spring," he said. "This is a business where you have to keep learning. And I'd like to get that change-up just right. Low and outside—and grab a corner of the plate. I'm still working on it."

Outside it was cold and the ground was splashed with snow. But he was thinking about a hot night in August when he would give a guy like Eddie Yost a change-up on the outside and get him out.

"A professional," Casey Stengel tells you, "he thinks that way. You want a man like that because he gets the other guy out and he is thinking about it 12 months a year. I would say Ford is like that."

Kane Republican reprinted in part recently an editorial from Port Allegheny Record-Argus, stating relatively the same facts contained in a Sportorial printed in Times-Mirror Monday. "It is a well known and recognized fact that equipping a football team is the major expenditure involved in fielding a grid squad season after season. Uniforms, are, of course, a sizeable item in the total cost of equipping the young athletes for football action. This newspaper on July 17 asked the editorial question, 'Should Taxpayer Subsidize Heavy Football Losses?'—meaning financial loss, by the way, not the inevitable losses on the field of action. . . . Those who personally love the sport, and attend most of the games, should carry most of the cost of fielding a squad each season. This, of course, would remove the unnecessary burden from many taxpayers who do not derive particular enjoyment or benefit from the gridiron game. Sale of season tickets should also be a prime activity of any reorganized group of that type (Boosters Club)—for tickets, after all, are a key source of income to help 'carry' the gridiron sport on the school program. Early action toward a reactivation of such a group might well make it possible for the fans of football to help out in future purchase of such items as game uniforms, when needed, or in the more immediate future, to promote the sale of season tickets, which have been prepared and will be immediately available to interested fans."

Decade Makes Difference In the Southern Conference

By MERCER BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP)—A decade has made quite a difference in Southern Conference football.

With the 1958 season almost here, Auburn fans already are getting their vocal chords in shape for another wildly cheering season. They don't necessarily count on the Tigers repeating as the nation's No. 1 power in The Associated Press poll. But an outsider would have a high impossible job trying to convince the Tiger partisans that any other of the 11 SEC teams can grab the conference championship.

A far cry from 10 years ago. Auburn finished the 1948 season last, winning one game, tying one and losing eight.

Carrying the contrast further, the four power teams in the SEC 10 years ago were Georgia, Mississippi, Tulane and Valderbilt. Mississippi ranks as an A-1 title threat this year. Not so the others. Georgia at best rates a darkhorse label. Tulane and Vandy face an uphill fight to make the first division.

Auburn, Mississippi and Mississippi State may well settle the conference championship among them. And the schedule is stacked against state. The Maroons, boasting an All-America hopeful in quarterback Billy Stacy, must play both Auburn and Old Miss. The latter two don't meet.

In addition to going unbeaten and untied and winning the mythical national championship, Auburn produced the nation's toughest defense last year, allowing an average of only 133 yards per game. Coach Ralph Jordan says he can't hope to field as fine a defensive machine this time—but he thinks the Tiger will be rugged.

His line will be anchored by a massive, quick center, Jackie Burkett, closely supported by guard Zeke Smith and end Jerry Wilson, who ranked last year only a step behind All-America end Jimmy Phillips. Fullbacking could be a problem.

Coach Johnny Vaughn, whose 11 years at Mississippi have been loaded with success, figures to have a typical sleek, swift talented bunch of rebels.

Georgia Tech figures to be improved and, like Tennessee and Florida, must be ranked as solid first division timber. Alabama has a new coach, Paul (Bear) Bryant, late of Texas A&M. But the Crimson Tide was down too far to come-battering back into prominence so soon.

Kentucky Coach Blanton Collier, who lost All-America tackle Lou Michaels, says he has too many newcomers to keep pace. Louisiana State doesn't figure in the title picture but has the makings of a spoiler.

Anne Quast Is Real Darling at Women's Tourney

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — One version of the spectator's view of the 58th U.S. Women's Golf Championship is that everyone wants Anne Quast to win more than Anne does herself.

"Maybe I give the impression that I don't care, but that's not what I'm thinking," Miss Quast said before taking on Mrs. John Pennington, a Buffalo veteran, in the third round of the championship at the tricky Wee Burn Course today.

"I want to win as badly as anyone, but when you miss a shot you can either cry or smile, so I'd rather smile."

Miss Quast, a perky-faced 20-year-old Stanford University senior, is the darling of the galleries. And the smile is one big reason. Sixty-four players went into the first double round today after two rounds of eliminations.

Two former champions were eliminated Tuesday. Dorothy Kirby, 1951 winner, went down in the 20th hole before 17-year-old Judy Eller, who won her second National Junior Girls title only last week.

Rickey Predicts Bucs Will Cop Next Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey Sr., board chairman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Tuesday night predicted the team will win the National League pennant "not this year, but next year."

"But don't sell these lads short this year," said the 76-year-old former general manager of the Pirates and the old Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey's comments to newsmen came at one of his rare public appearances since suffering a heart attack last February. He looked hale at memorial services of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Folley Demanding A Crack at Title Held by Patterson

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — "I deserve the chance to fight Patterson. I think I can lick him any time, any place."

So says No. 1 heavyweight contender Zora Folley, who figures he's been marking time long enough.

Folley's manager, millionaire Phoenix sportsman Bill Swift, echoes the refrain.

Why, asks Swift, has the Chandler fighter been sidetracked in favor of opponents of lesser standing?

Champion Floyd Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, has said, "Patterson won't fight anybody who's fought for the IBC."

The International Boxing Club is a big bogey to D'Amato, and Folley has fought under IBC auspices.

Folley, at 26 has met most of the top heavies. He and his manager feel this is the crossroads. One route leads to the title, the other to oblivion.

Folley watched the champ score a bloody, 12th round knockout over Roy Harris in Los Angeles Monday night and came away convinced that he can defeat Patterson.

Warren Team To Participate In Kane Program

Warren's newly-formed Knot-hole All-Stars, members of Hot Stove Cadet division this season, will participate in a special "Ed Moran Appreciation Night" program at Kane this evening, honoring former Kane High track star from James City who returned last week from the series of European track meets.

Warren's All-Stars will battle undefeated Kane All-Stars at Glenwood Memorial Field.

Moran, Penn State Star, has promised to run sprints on the field so that Kane fans can see him in action.

At Penn-Kane Hotel last week, Ed was presented gift certificates and other tokens of appreciation at a welcome home ceremony. The gifts were "from Kane Kiwanis Club, Quarterback Club and the people of Kane."

Sunday afternoon a reception was held in James City School where Ed's mother was building superintendent for many years. Mrs. Moran died recently.

Moran was part of a group of 70 track and field members who competed with teams from Moscow, Warsaw, Budapest and Athens in a three-week circuit of meets.

Cadets Nudge Kinzua in Extra Innings 3 to 2

City Cadet Independents nudged a determined Kinzua nine 3-2 in an extra-inning contest Tuesday evening. Playing before a large crowd at Jackson Field, the two ball clubs battled it out "right down to the wire", before John Ponsoll, Indies' twirler, cracked out a game-winning single last of the ninth to score teammate Ron Bonavita from second.

Warren drew first blood in the second inning on a double by Ponsoll and Jim Thompson's single, but the lead was short-lived. Kinzua bounced back with a base on balls, and singles by Tony Ross and Tim Wilson, producing one run.

Losers then pushed another run across in the sixth but Warren retaliated with one in their half of the seventh, sending the contest into extra innings. No further scoring was accomplished until winning blow in the ninth.

Gail Platt, Kinzua mound ace, pitched masterful ball, retiring 13 Independents in a row during one span of the game. Credit is also granted the Indies' hurlers, Bert Bliss and Ponsoll, pitching very creditable ball. Superb defensive play by both clubs merited numerous applause from fans.

This game concluded the Kinzua-Indies series, but the Warren team will face undefeated Kane All-Stars tonight in an "Ed Moran Appreciation Night" program at Glenwood Memorial field. The game will climax a celebration for former Kane High track star, Ed Moran, who performed for U. S. track squad in Russia, Poland, Hungary and Greece.

Mystery Star to Be Seen in Hole-In-One Tourney

Committee members of Jaycee first annual Hole-In-One Contest visited Pittsburgh over the weekend to confer with officials of that city's Dapper Dan Hole-In-One event to learn how best to run the forth-coming contest here in Warren.

Local event is Saturday, 10 a. m. at Bill's Driving Range, just off the three-lane in Starbrick. Hal Conarro, chairman, announced that the contest will be run according to the same rules and general procedures as those used at the Dapper Dan contest.

Conarro said that only change from the Dapper Dan event would be a reduction in price. In Pittsburgh, entry fee is $1 for one shot at the hole. Warren charge will be on a similar basis. Jaycees will offer same prize for a Hole-In-One that is awarded at the large Dapper Dan tournament—$100 in cash as well as a $25 prize to the person who comes closest to the hole, should no one get in the cup.

As an extra attraction, Jaycees are featuring appearance of a mystery celebrity golf pro who will demonstrate shots at the Driving Range at 2 p. m. Saturday. Celebrity's name will not be announced until Saturday.

Rain data for the event is August 30.

Floyd Patterson Is on Way Home $311,000 Richer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is on route by train today to his home in Mt. Vernon, N.Y., about $311,000 richer because of his 12th-round knockout of Roy Harris.

Harris flies home to Cut and Shoot, Tex., Saturday for a big reception. He's $100,000 richer despite his many cuts and bruises.

Before leaving for the East, Manager Gus D'Amato said the champion wants to defend his title again this year.

Rockets Drop First Game in The Playoff

Ed "Wink" Rickerson was tagged for 13 hits as Marlun-Rockwell Rollers' Bruce Bullock pitched steady eight-hit ball to defeat Warren Rockets 6-3 in the first game of Inter-city League semi-final playoff series in Municipal Stadium Tuesday evening.

Rockets led the Rollers 2-1 for half an inning. Bullock posted his fifth victory against one defeat. He struck out six and walked two Rockets in gaining the decision over Warren's big southpaw, who fanned four and walked only one.

Barry Drexler and Earl Campbell gleaned two safeties apiece for Warren while Dave Lindahl, George Parsons and Tommy Hurst paced Rollers at the plate. Parsons and Lindahl getting three hits and Hurst two.

Jamestown opened the battle scoring a run in first frame. Rockets struck back top of the second with two tallies on singles by Joe Kulbacki, Rickerson and Campbell and a wild throw.

A roller run in the second knotted the contest. They pushed their lead to 4-2 in the third. Warren counted its third run in the seventh. Campbell led off with a double, only extra-base hit of the game, and Nick Creola singled him home.

Saturday afternoon at Rollers will contest their second game. Jamestown Bombers and Ludlow Wildcats tonight in Municipal Stadium at 7 for their first semi-final.

Mexican Team Is Picked to Repeat At Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Monterrey, Mex. was picked by many observers today as the first repeat champion in the 12-year history of Little League world series competition.

The Latin American champions put on a fine display of balanced hitting and defensive work Tuesday in an 11-0 victory of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The performance convinced veteran tournament observers and the estimated 6,000 which filled the 3,500-seat stadium and lined the carthen dyke beyond right field that Monterrey is the team to beat.

The team rated so far as the strongest contender, Darien, Conn., was matched against the defending champions in today's semi-final round in what shaped up as the first big showdown in this annual extravaganza for 11 and 12-year-old ballplayers.

Darien eliminated Valleyfield, Quebec, Canada, 7-2 in Tuesday's opening round.
